"The Shining Hour" Coming Here Under Auspices Stirling Legion

The Belleville Theatre Guild which brings to Stirling on Monday, March 17th, under the auspices of the Stirling Legion the suspense packed drama, "The Shining Hour," numbers to its credit ten three-act plays and innumerable one-act plays. The Guild this year is entering its eighth year of activity, and it is gratifying to note that most of those, now belonging are charter members who have continuously evinced a determined interest in acting and have grasped every opportunity to improve.

Throughout the years the Guild has made available to its members several courses in acting, make-up, lighting and directing. Well-known directors and adjudicators have been brought in from outside centres and they, through their unbiased and constructive criticism, have helped immeasurably to make these amateur actors much more conscious of their faults and have stimulated in them the desire to do better.

Among the three-act plays already produced by the Guild are Rebecca, The Ghost Train, The Enchanted, You Can't Take It With You, Joan of Lorraine, The Happy Time, Blithe Spirit, The White Sheep of the Family and The Man Who Came To Dinner.

It is interesting to note that all members of the cast of "The Shining Hour" except one have had leading roles in five or six of the above named productions.

During the first year of its existence the Belleville Theatre Guild was significantly honoured in having one of its one act plays chosen to be put on at the Dominion Drama Festival in St. John's N.B. Since that time other one act plays have won awards at the Peterborough Festival and four years ago the Guild played host in Belleville to the three-day Festival of the Eastern Ontario Drama League.

"The Shining Hour," to be staged here Monday, March 17th, is an absorbing drama written by the well-known English playwright, Keith Winters, and on the legitimate stage in both London and New York it has met with signal success. It is a play with deep suspense, strong motivation and characterization and well worth seeing.

The Stirling Legion is happy to bring this play to Stirling and it is hoped that the local theatre will be packed to greet these experienced players. The proceeds will be devoted towards completing the new Legion Hall in time for the Centennial.

Mrs. Thos. Russett Hostess To Wellman's W.I.

The members of Wellman's Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Thos. Russett on Wednesday afternoon, February 19th for their regular meeting. Despite bad roads and cold weather there was a fair attendance.

The meeting opened in the usual way with the Institute Ode and all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Included in the correspondence was an invitation from the S.S. No. 17 school to attend an open meeting on March 3rd at the school during Education week. Mrs. Ernest Irwin, of Campbellford, Convenor of Home Economics and Health on the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario Provincial Board, will be one of the main speakers.

The motto, "use the talents you possess for the woods would be silent if no birds sang but the best song" was well given by Mrs. George Watson, who read a portion of Scripture and gave a short paper urging each one to use their God-given talents to the best of their ability as they were given us to be used for the one high purpose of serving. Readings were given by Mrs. Jim Pollock and Mrs. K. Tompkins.

The highlight of the afternoon was a demonstration on etching aluminum by Mrs. Kenneth Oddie, of Burnbrae, and when the piece was finished she donated it to the Institute to sell tickets on which will be drawn at a card party. Mrs. Oddie had on display many pieces of copper, both etched and hammered; also pieces of jewelry. Mrs. Oddie was introduced by Mrs. J. Pollock and Mrs. G. Watson expressed the thanks of the members and presented her with a gift.

After a contest conducted by Mrs. J. Pollock, the meeting closed by all repeating the Institute Creed and singing God Save the Queen.

River Valley Woman's Miss. Aux.

The February meeting of the River Valley Women's Missionary Auxiliary was held on the 25th at the home of Mrs. Ross Holland with an attendance of 17 members, 2 visitors and 6 children.

The President, Mrs. Glenn Bush, opened the meeting with the theme song, hymn 396. The secretary reported one card sent; the Baby Band 4 cards sent for birthdays and that they have received their First Year Certificate. The recording secretary read reports from the Belleville Presbyterian which proved interesting.

Mrs. Alex Bush was in charge of the programme and opened with a poem. The theme was "Looking to Christ and not to Ourselves." The hymn, "Father of Peace and God of Love" was sung, followed by prayer by Mrs. Bush. The Scripture Lesson, Philippians 3: 1-16 was read by Mrs. Roy Bush. Mrs. Alex Bush gave the explanation. The hymn, "O For A Thousand Tongues to Sing" was sung and Mrs. Philip Conley favoured with a piano selection. An interesting reading, "Lonesome Summer," was given by Mrs. Ernest Carr.

The chapter from the study book, "Enlarging the Borders," was well prepared and given by Mrs. Ross Bush. Dr. A. Packman was present and gave some remarks on Japan and Lent.

The Mizpah Benediction brought the service to a close and the lunch committee, Mrs. George Heasman, Mrs. P. Conley and the hostess, served a delicious lunch of cake, tarts and tea. Mrs. E. Carr voiced thanks to the hostess and all taking part for the day.

Bethel W.A.

Readings were given by Mrs. E. McKeown and Mrs. Ray Sine. Mrs. Wm. Heath contributed a piano solo and Mrs. Don Drewry conducted a sting contest.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee.

company employed 24,345 women and 17,018 men.

During 1952, there was a net increase of 183,731 telephones in service in the Bell's Ontario-Quebec territory. This brought the year-end total to 2,954,884.

This expansion was reflected in Stirling by the addition of 41 telephones. G. W. Proctor, Bell manager for this region said, bringing the total in service here as of December 31st to 1,175.

"We spent $177,300,000 on new construction, an increase of $37,800,000 over the previous year," the report reveals. "By far the greater part of our construction effort in 1952 was devoted to providing more customers with local service, and improving that service."

A continuous effort is being made to increase productivity and thereby help in keeping down both operating expenses and the cost of building new plant, the report notes.

Net income for 1952 was $36,037,169, equivalent to $2.15 a share, compared with earnings of $34,949,181 or $2.40 a share in 1951. The usual dividend of $2.00 a share was paid and surplus was increased by $2,134,488. Taxes amounted to $39,730,000.

The microwave radio relay network being built by the Bell company and other members of the Trans-Canada Telephone System to carry telephone conversations and television programmes from coast-to-coast was extended last year and will be completed in the summer of 1953.

Hom Town Paper

There's something about the most of us,
No matter where we go,
We have within, a longing,
At least, I've found it so
To keep in touch with loved ones,
While wandering up and down
And we love to see the paper
From the old home town.

It receives a hearty welcome,
As it makes its regular rounds,
Telling us of our old friends
And where they may be found.
It is sort of keeps together
Heart-strings once entwined;
It's the voice of our old home town
Where town and paper seem combined.

Frost, Monteith Sign Agreement On Hospital Plan

Ontario and the Federal Government Monday signed the first federal-provincial hospital insurance agreement.

The ceremony took place in the centre block of the Parliament Buildings with Health Minister Monteith signing for the Federal Government and Premier Frost for Ontario.

Mr. Monteith said the signing launches a project which will contribute more to the health and well-being of Canadians than any step undertaken since Confederation.

Mr. Frost described the signing as a moment in history and said it is an objective in the field of human betterment.

The Ontario hospital insurance programme is expected to be in operation January 1st, 1953. Under the agreement the province and the Federal Government will share the cost of standard ward care and diagnostic services.

Purchase of Easter Seals Aids Crippled Children

To more than 12,500 children and teenagers in Ontario, afflicted by accident, disease, or from birth by crippling conditions that usually mean despair and dependence on others, March is the month of hope.

Easter Seals go on sale on March 6th, through the members of 220 service clubs, as the means by which the people of Ontario join in the vast task of making life better for youngsters who would otherwise find it harder, if not impossible, to become self-dependent citizens. This year the service clubs have set a provincial objective of $750,000 from the sale of Easter Seals.

The purchases of Easter Seals mean treatment and training, vacations in specially equipped summer camps and all the other benefits that the thirty-five-year-old Ontario Society for Crippled Children has developed over its history to children. They mean a chance for lads to take a course at the internationally known Variety Village, the school sponsored and supported by the entertainment profession, where trades are taught, boys unable to work at manual tasks.

Down through the years Easter Seals have paved a way for a programme which now provides twenty-two specially trained nurses, who serve as liaison with the service clubs across the province, seeking out crippled children and directing them to treatment centres, providing them with home nursing skills, and teaching parents what to do to help their handicapped little ones take advantage of medically prescribed plans of rehabilitation.

In five camps, unlike any other camps in the country, hundreds of youngsters will have a chance at the summer vacations barred to them otherwise because they cannot play exactly as other children do. In these camps counsellors with knowledge of what to do to teach the kids to enjoy life, to learn how to care for themselves and give many of them hope which their conditions, or even their over-protective parents, have not aroused.

Easter Seals too enrol the services of leading physicians and surgeons who give their time and skills at the clinics, which the Society and the service clubs organize at strategic centres in Ontario where local doctors may bring their young patients for examination and recommend a treatment. From the clinics the children go to hospital if necessary or back to their homes for a programme of planned therapy or training supervised by the Society's nurses.

In the field of cerebral palsy, the Society's Easter Seals have made possible advances that are dramatic even though the task is painfully slow and expensive. At the Wooded residential training centre near London teams of nurses and doctors are teaching children to talk, to walk, to feed themselves and dress themselves... even to become helpful family members instead of helpless victims of a condition that once spelled hopelessness.

Purchase of Easter Seals mean membership for the buyers in a crusade of mercy and service to children, who, through no fault of their own, bear enormous burdens of affliction, but who need only a little help to carry those burdens much more lightly.

The St. Paul's Woman's Missionary Annual Service was held on Sunday last. The Rev. Leonard Keighly, a Missionary on furlough, gave a splendid address. Mr. Keighly, born near a town of that name in Yorkshire, England, returns to Japan in a few weeks. The speaker revealed a very great affection and admiration for the native Christians in Japan as well as a first class insight of their country.

Following the service the Scripture-er's Group entertained the congregation in the school room and the ladies of the W.M.S. provided a light lunch. Confirmation Class — Sunday at 10.45 a.m.

The Official Board met on Monday when The Rev. George Pattenham, representing the Belleville Presbyterian met the members. The Board of Stewards met on the same evening and I understand that Mr. Albert Wells resigned from that position and Mr. Harold Bird was appointed in his place. Mr. David Duffin was appointed Chairman of the Parsonage committee in the place of Mr. Bird.

A Traveller's Note Book

There is a text in the Bible which suggests that you find what you are looking for and there is a great deal in experience to confirm it. With a world of uncertainty and alarm for ever impinging on our imagination, we may easily get into the habit of looking for the bad things and the worst things to happen. It has therefore been a pleasure to live through the past week.

First of all, a friend told me of a man who, being on the point of committing suicide, suddenly changed his mind. His excuse was this: "If I commit suicide, I do not get rid of my troubles, I merely hand them on to someone else, and that is not fair." It does one good to hear a story such as that.

The second incident was early in the week when a gentleman friend of mine handed me a cheque for $500.00 and said: "See what good you can do with that."

The third incident was when talking over a few of other peoples' troubles, the man I talked with ended by handing me a $5.00 note and said: "I think you should start a community fund so that in cases such as you mention, at least some help would be at hand."

That is not a bad idea at that. Certainly we may say we have little actual distress among us, for this we ought to thank God. However, there are times when a person or family is faced with sickness and expense or other trouble a bit more than they can stand.

If a fourth is needed, I think it would be to the credit of a certain teen-ager, who, walking down a very slippery street noticed a lady in difficulties; this teen-ager went to her assistance and in a most courteous manner gave the help she needed. While on the same day another teen-ager rushing up the steps of the Post Office, pulled himself up as he was dashing through the door and waited for an adult to enter as he held open the door before him. If he were my son, I would be more than happy to know that he so acted.

I have just finished reading an article on wrapped merchandise. It would seem that an enquiry that short weight is not unknown where wrapped goods are concerned. The report says a housewife could save a dollar a week by buying loose rather than packed goods. Some articles are very much more expensive if wrapped, some articles such as potatoes often are overweight rather than underweight. However that may be, I'm coming down on the side of the wrapped foodstuffs. Certainly all articles should wear their weight on the wrapper, but who wants to return to the day when you get your milk ladled out of a can and into your jam jar, or buy rice from a dusty sack, have your sugar sold in a piece of blue paper or your cheese and bacon mucked about by some person's grubby hands.

Heavens, I hope the day soon comes when coal will arrive wrapped.

Today is Monday. Is this the spring break-up? If not, what is it? I just want to say to those people who have waved the weather in my face during these past weeks — "prepare yourself — when the break-up does come it won't be funny; there is enough frost in the ground to make a muskeg of your yard. Of course, I hope it does not happen, yet I know it will, so arm yourself with a shovel and wait for it." I may even come round and ask you how you like the weather?

A Fitting Finish

That is not a wise crack even though I am thinking of "Les Petites Filles Modeles."

The new fashions, said the lady, are a riot of colour. There are the attractive wide brimmed straws with child-like ribbons; child-like coats that flow downward like a silent glacier; evening sheaths; more of the tight, long bodied and bouffant dancer dresses; all of them an emotional storm with their wind swept puffs and sun kissed patterns.

These will make you feel young even though you don't look young. I must confess, the latter has put me off a bit. I may even have to go out in my pyjamas after all.

Lake Ontario Development Assoc. Met At Belleville

Members of Zone 3 of the Lake Ontario Development Association met in the "New" Queens Hotel, Belleville, on Thursday, February 27th, to hear the L.O.D.A. General Manager, Donald W. Kingdon, announce a new industry for Brighton.

He said the Norman L. Jones Co., Ltd., from Europe, manufacturers of pre-cast concrete and related products, will employ from 30 to 35 men. Mr. Kingdon added that other such investments may be expected in the L.O.D.A. region.

First announcement of Brighton's new industry was made on Tuesday night in the Village when the President of the Chamber of Commerce addressed a meeting at which Mr. Kingdon was the guest speaker.

Mr. J. E. Turnbull, Chief Consultant, Trade and Industry Branch of the Department of Planning and Development, Toronto, explained the organization of the L.O.D.A. to the newer members of the Association. Mr. Turnbull is a "floating" member of all zones in the Development Region.

For the March 26th meeting of the Zone in Frankford, invitations will be sent out to representatives of hotels, motels, service clubs and others who are interested in the development of the Lake Ontario area.

Mr. Alec Gilbert, Manager of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce reported on the "strip" maps of the Zone 3 area, primarily for the benefit of tourists who might choose to make side trips in this part of Ontario. His Committee will be guided by similar maps being prepared by the Department of Travel and Publicity.

Robert Hamilton, Manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, will leave for the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show on March 13th to be an official representative of the L.O.D.A. He said that the L.O.D.A. has printed a number of colorful and informative "give away" brochures which will be taken to the Cleveland Show. The brochures, he explained, were designed to promote American interest in the vacation land bordering Lake Ontario.

Members were present from Belleville, Trenton, Frankford and Wellington. Special note was made of the six-man delegation from Wellington. Other visitors included Mayor Gerald B. Hyde, who represented City Council and G. B. Scott, who appeared for the Industrial Commission, Belleville.

Messrs. Turnbull and Kingdon toured Belleville the following morning, before leaving for Toronto and Peterborough.

Free Blood Service Sponsored By Red Cross

Following is a letter received by Reeve J. V. Holt from A. S. Lewis, President of the Belleville and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross, which is self explanatory.

Dear Sir:

We thought it would not be remiss to remind you that the Belleville and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society embodying not only the city of Belleville but also South Hastings and Prince Edward Counties; stand ready at all times to assist you in times of need, emergency and distress.

During each year we assist many families who have been burned out, or needed assistance and have helped to provide them with the essential things necessary for their welfare.

Where families have been burned out made homeless and lost their possessions, an immediate phone call to Mrs. Effie McCabe, of Belleville, Woodland 8-7701, Chairman of our Disaster Committee, will bring our branch to your assistance.

Invalid people who are financially unable to purchase or rent hospital beds, wheel chairs, crutches or walkers, or who cannot pay for special drugs, etc., can be assisted without charge by our branch if you will get in touch with Mrs. A. H. Ketcheson in Belleville, Woodland 2-0675, who is in charge of our Loan Cupboard and Welfare Committee.

Through the efforts of our Belleville Branch we are inaugurating a free blood transfusion service at the Belleville General Hospital effective March 1st. After that date any person entering the hospital from your municipality who requires one or more blood transfusions, will be given free blood without the necessity of having to provide donors on a two for one basis as has been in effect up to the present time. The hospital will still make a service charge of $5.00 for processing the blood, but the blood itself is free.

We sincerely hope that you will make this information available to your Municipality at the next meeting of your Council.

Hoping to have the privilege of serving you.

A. S. LEWIS,
President,
Belleville and District Branch,

HOLDEN — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Emma Bertha Holden, who passed away March 4th, 1956.

In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken.
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.
—Sadly missed by her family. 7-1

JACKMAN — In loving memory of Wm. Percy Jackman, who passed away March 9th, 1953.

Tonight the stars are shining,
On a lonely silent grave;
Where sleeps in dreamless slumber
One I loved but could not save.
May Heaven's wind blow softly,
On that sweet and hallowed spot,
Where the one I love lies sleeping
Who will never be forgot.
—Ever remembered by his loving wife and family. 7-1

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WHERE YOU PAY TO BE SOLD

In the final month of 1957 the Toronto Telegram came out with this heading: Taxpayers Subsidize TV Commercials. The first three paragraphs of the story, by staff writer David Proulx, ought to make you wince somewhere in the neighbourhood of your pocketbook.

"CBC is subsidizing its sponsors." "The Government is subsidizing the CBC."

"And you, the taxpayers, are helping to pay for the commercials you see on Canadian television."

Well, it may be a headline in the daily papers today; but readers of the weekly papers were told the same truth in the weekly press as far back as 1956, in this very column.

I do not relate this story to boast about a scoop, because columnists in the weekly press are not expected to come up with news scoops; that's not their job. I relate it because I feel strongly that this subsidy business has gone on far too long.

Advertisers in magazines, newspapers and billboards are expected to pay an established rate, published in advance and strictly adhered to by reputable publishers. The lower-main-street form of dickering is frowned on. Publishers who make too many "deals" to get advertising, usually wind up with poor papers or go broke. Certainly they cannot call on taxpayers to make up the difference.

Is it fair that broadcasting should again be singled out for special treatment? How long can the weekly press compete for national advertising, if many national advertisers can negotiate a "deal" with the tax-supported CBC?

I think this is important to every small community. A weekly newspaper in a district is, in my opinion, an important contributor to the culture of that district even if the editor doesn't wear a beret, cultivate a fake English accent, or teach his linotype operators to ballet dance in their spare time. "And if costs keep rising and national advertising revenue falling, many a community will find itself without a paper."

Besides, in my opinion at least, some of the dancing girls and scantily clad singers on CBC's subsidized programmes would not be missed if sponsors couldn't be found to pay the full shot for such displays. I cannot bring myself to believe they are a culture necessity outside of nightclubs. So far night club operators have not, to my knowledge, been able to get any subsidy from the government or the general taxpaying public.

If you agree with me, why not tell your member of parliament that you'd rather your tax money did not go to help soap manufacturers soft soap you? I think you'd soon get action.

Most 4-H Club Members Want To Go Farming

Of the 134 delegates to the 1957 National 4-H Club Week that was held in Toronto and Ottawa at the time of the Royal Winter Fair, 69 have chosen agriculture as their future occupation.

In addition to that group, the next highest was 31 who have decided to go into teaching, seven nursing, one veterinary; other occupations nine, undecided 16; and one wishes to engage in 4-H work.

The average age of the 134 was 17.5 years; 11 were living on farms; and their average of completed projects was 7.2 ranging from clothing, calf, garden, farm forestry and fish, a new project in Newfoundland.

The largest total of completed projects was in dairy calves, 217, with beef calves second at 212; next was clothing (girls) at 128; swine projects 42, sheep 10, poultry 38, grain 37.

Another fact was that 22 of the 134 delegates had parents, brothers or sisters who had attended previous National Club Weeks, which bring together boys and girls representing all the provinces.

Of their educational experience: 71 were attending High School but only 4 at University and 6 at Schools of Agriculture; Teachers' College 6; completed high school 19, and not attending school 28. James D. Moore, Ottawa, secretary-manager of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs mentions that these young delegates are selected by their respective provinces on their overall record in 4-H Club work.

Is Boy Champion?

L. R. Harrill, State 4-H Club Leader for North Carolina, was recently named one of the four "Men of the Year" for 1957 in service to agriculture in the southern area of the U.S. He is known widely for his outstanding leadership in the 4-H Club movement. Jim Moore comments: "The following typical quote from Mr. Harrill is a tribute to his sound philosophy and service: 'If a boy has produced a grand champion calf and has not become a grand champion himself, the project has not been successful. It is not what the boy or girl does on his record that is important but what the making of that record does for the boy or girl.'"

Putting Father As Head of Family Cuts Delinquency Says Judge

The father's authority in the home is the key to youthful behaviour, a famous judge advises in the March Reader's Digest: In homes where father is boss, the child grows up to respect law and order.

Judge Samuel Liebowitz, now guiding a grand jury investigation of New York schools, makes that recommendation in an article titled "Nine Words That Can Stop Juvenile Delinquency." The nine words, he says, are "Put Father Back at the Head of the Family," and he learned their effectiveness on a trip to Italy, which has the lowest youthful delinquency rate in the world.

It is unthinkable for an Italian teenager to assault a policeman, he says. Crimes by youngsters against adults are rare. "Thrill murders" are incomprehensible.

Why? The Judge says he talked to police chiefs, school superintendents, mayors of cities and got the same answer everywhere: Young people in Italy respect authority.

That respect begins in the home—then carries over into the school, the city streets, the courts. "I went into Italian homes to see for myself," Judge Liebowitz writes. "I found that even in the poorest family, the father is respected by the wife and children as its head. He rules with varying degrees of love and tenderness and firmness. His household has rules to live by and the child who disobeys them is punished."

The North American teen-ager, he writes, has been raised in a family where "obey" is an outlawed word, and where the mother has taken over command. The father, occupied with his business affairs has slowly, grudgingly, abdicated his leadership. And in many homes "permissive" psychology, with no discipline, gives the confused teen-ager little or no guidance.

"How many parents have stood before me," Judge Liebowitz writes, "after I have sentenced their children to prison, and asked 'Judge, what did I do that was wrong? I sacrificed for him, gave him a good life, put him through school . . ."

"It's not what they did; it's what they did not do. They did not put Father in charge of the family, they did not teach their child discipline . . . this nine-word principle, I think, can do more for us than all the committees, ordinances and multi-million dollar programmes combined. Put Father back at the Head of the Family."

THE FOOD BASKET

HONEY ALWAYS POPULAR

As far back as history goes, honey has been lauded as Mother Nature's finest sweet. Writers have always spoken of honey poetically: Aristotle, the Greek philosopher, called it "dew distilled from the stars and the rainbow;" the Bible praises an especially happy and beautiful country by calling it "a land of milk and honey;" and now, in this modern age, our rock'n'roll song writers have taken up the torch by proclaiming: "There's nothing in the world like honeycomb."

Canadian Honey Available

Canada's busy bees in 1957 produced the largest honey crop this country has seen in over a decade. It came to almost 32,000,000 pounds—enough for about 2 pounds each for every man, woman and child. Have you eaten your quota yet? If not, now is your chance to develop the honey habit, for what is left of the 1957 crop is of excellent quality—mostly Number 1, White. It's reasonable in price, too. When you visit your store you'll find Canadian liquid and granulated honey available in several sizes of glass, plastic, paper and metal containers which make it easy for you to compare values and buy according to your needs.

Honey Label Informative

Wise shoppers read labels thoroughly because they want to know exactly what they are buying. When shopping for honey, they find the printed information on the label very helpful because, by law, certain facts must be there. In addition to the name of the product and the name and address of the packer, honey labels must show:

(1) The colour class — White, Golden, Amber or Dark. Generally speaking, the colour of honey is an indication of its flavour — the lighter the colour, the milder the flavour. In Canada, more light honey than dark is produced.

(2) The grade of honey — Number 1, 2 or 3, with Number 1 being highest quality. Each colour of honey is graded for quality on its own merits and not by comparison with the other colours.

(3) The net weight of honey in the container. Honey is packed in the following standard sizes of containers: any size up to 5 ounces, 8 ounces, 12 ounces, 1 pound, 2 pounds and 4 pounds. Honey is also packed in other specified, larger sizes but these are not generally available in retail stores.

(4) The word "Liquid" if the honey has been treated to preserve the original liquid form. Good quality honey is clear and free from crystals.

(5) The word "Pasteurized" if the honey has been treated to destroy the yeasts responsible for fermentation. Unless the word "Liquid" appears on the label, pasteurized honey is of the crystallized type which means that it has been granulated under controlled conditions in order to produce a uniform, smooth texture ideal for spreading. This honey is not changed in any way except in the size of the crystals. The smaller the crystals, the smoother the texture of granulated honey. The words "Fine," "Medium" or "Coarse," indicating the texture, may be printed on the label but this is not mandatory.

Colours and Flavours Vary

The colour and flavour of honey are characteristic of the blossoms from which the bees have gathered the nectar. For example, honey from clover is light in colour and has a mild flavour, while that from buckwheat is dark in colour and has a strong, characteristic flavour. Most honeys are blended to a certain extent, as the bees very often will gather the nectar from more than one kind of flowers.

Canadians generally are more familiar with light honey than dark but in Europe, where buckwheat is grown extensively, the dark honey is better known and highly prized. Many New Canadians will find our lighter, delicately flavoured honeys a treat, but they will be pleased to know that they can also buy Canadian honey that's very similar to what they were used to eating.

Store Honey In A Dry Place

It is better to store honey in a dry place, at room temperature, than in the refrigerator. Honey that has crystallized may be reliquified by placing the container in a pan of hot (not boiling) water until the crystals dissolve. Overheating will darken honey and may change the flavour.

Honey Good Anytime

Since honey is at its best when used just as it comes from the container, the Consumer Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture recommends that you:

Use Honey for Breakfast — To drizzle over grapefruit halves; and use it as a spread on hot toast, biscuits, muffins and grilled French toast.

Use Honey for Dinner — As a glaze for ham steak, baked spare ribs, chicken pieces, and parboiled parsnip or turnip slices; use it in dressings for fruit salads; and drizzle it over ice cream, pumpkin pie and puddings.

Use Honey For Supper — On pancakes or waffles; use it to sweeten fruit cup; and use it in the icing for a cake.

Use Honey For Snacks — With rolls or coffee cake; use it in sweet sandwiches; and use it to sweeten milk and fruit drinks.

FELIX RASHOTTE BADLY HURT

Felix Rashotte, Tweed, former returning officer for Hastings South, is in Belleville General Hospital in a serious condition, following an accident Thursday afternoon last at 2:00 o'clock, when the car he was driving, was involved in an accident with a car transport, near the Point Anne turn on No. 2 Highway, east of Belleville. Apparently a heavy snowstorm obscured Mr. Rashotte's view, and he veered into the path of the large transport on a curve on the highway. West-bound, he was driving alone at the time.

He was immediately taken to Belleville General Hospital via ambulance, and it is understood that he is suffering from undisclosed chest injuries. The car was almost a complete wreck. The road was slippery at the time, according to police who investigated.

Water Resources To Instal Sewerage At Frankford

Two eastern Ontario communities have entered into agreements with the Ontario Water Resources Commission, Alfred, east of Ottawa, and Frankford, north of Trenton, it has been announced by Commission officials.

The Commission will undertake to revitalize Alfred's old water system and will develop new ground water sources in the area. Commission ground water experts are to be sent into the area immediately. Cost of the project has been estimated at $120,000. Consulting engineers are J. L. Richards and Associates, Ottawa.

In the case of Frankford, the Commission has undertaken to carry on a combined water and sewage programme. This is a project which has been delayed for some months pending downward revision of estimated requirements. Construction will start immediately with the general contract, $210,325, awarded to Lightfoot Brothers, Belleville, the contract for the water storage tank to Horton Steel Works, Fort Erie, $15,950, and the pump, $16,500, to International Water Supply, London.

The water works distribution system will include a deep well, pumping equipment with a capacity of 150 gallons per minute and a 125,000 gallon reservoir. It will cost $113,000. Sanitary sewers and a sewage treatment plant will cost $162,000. Graham Reid and Associates of Toronto are the consulting engineers.

CHANGED CONDITIONS OF WOODSMEN

"Hewers of wood," once regarded as the poorest paid of all workers have attained a standard of living that ranks with the highest paid of industrial employees. The 95,000 woodworkers and the 270,000 seasonal workers who produce Canada's pulpwood harvest are housed in modern camps and eat food of choice quality prescribed by dietetic experts.

Habeas Corpus literally means, "you may have the body."

THURSDAY, MARCH 6th, 1958

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

CANADIAN CATTLE INDUSTRY

R. K. Bennett, Head of the Livestock Merchandising Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture, says that at the present time indications are that 1958 should be a reasonably good year for Canadian cattle-men. There are at least 100,000 fewer head of cattle on feed in Canada than a year ago and according to a United States Department of Agriculture survey, the number of cattle and calves on feed in the United States at January 1st, 1958, was 3 per cent less than last year. This indicates a reduction in the number of cattle to be slaughtered in that country this year.

In 1957 American feeders imported about 204,000 head of feeder beef cattle from Canada. Mr. Bennett says this was partially due to the fact that the severe drought in the United States had broken in most areas and many ranchers who would have sold cattle last fall if the drought had continued, were instead in the market to buy. Furthermore, the Americans have a record supply of corn and other feed grains, a situation conducive to cattle feeding. Shipments up to date this year indicate that this strong demand for Canadian feeder cattle is still continuing.

The production of beef in Ontario is based, to a considerable extent, on the purchase of feeder cattle from western Canada. In 1957 Ontario farmers purchased approximately 85 per cent of their feeder cattle and calves from the west. Last year Ontario marketed nearly 700,000 head of public stockyards and packing plants, which meant that feeders bought from the west made up about 25 per cent of all the cattle marketed in Ontario.

Cattle prices, Mr. Bennett says, are closely tied to United States levels. When cattle are in short supply in this country the price level moves up, but as soon as the price at Toronto rises above the Chicago price to an amount equal to the freight and duty, American cattle start to move into Canada. In other words when beef cattle are moving in from the United States, the U.S. price sets a ceiling above which Canadian prices do not rise. On the other hand, when Canada has a surplus and is exporting cattle, the Canadian price tends to become the United States price, less the cost of shipping. This reverses the situation and the United States price provides a floor level below which Canadian prices do not drop.

The story of cattle marketing in Canada is related to the distribution of human population and the areas where beef cattle are produced. Mr. Bennett points out that only about 27 per cent of all Canadians live in western Canada but the west markets nearly 65 per cent of the cattle. This means that western Canada is a surplus area for beef and the east is a deficiency area where only 35 per cent of the cattle is produced. The result is a continuous movement of live cattle and dressed beef from the west to the large consuming centres of the east.

The quality of beef breeding in Canada has always been reasonably high and in the last ten years the quality of animals on a carcass basis, in inspected slaughter has been improved tremendously. In 1948 the number of top grade carcasses (red and blue brand beef) in inspected kill, was little less than 6,000 per week, representing about 15 per cent of the total kill. Last year the weekly average in these top grades was nearly 15,000 head or 39 per cent of the total kill.

PETERBOROUGH MAN DIRECTOR CANADIAN DUAL PURPOSE SHORTHORN SOCIETY

Elected to serve on the Board of the Dual Purpose Shorthorn Society was Joseph Sullivan, Peterborough, who is also secretary of the Peterborough and District Club.

In the meeting of the Society, details regarding a National Herd Competition were outlined. The objects of this competition would be (1) to promote increased milk and fat production; (2) to encourage more Dual Purpose Shorthorn breeders to enter R.O.P.; (3) to give due recognition to breeders achieving top rating in this contest. Suitable trophies have been donated, one by C. N. Abbott, the other by V. Lynch-Staunton, Nashville, Ont.

Herd Type Classification was discussed. This programme has been under way for the past six months. Five herds have been classified, with a similar number having applied for Classification.

A summary of the number of breeders with herds on R.O.P. in the past year showed a total of 76, with Ontario having 59, Quebec 5, Prince Edward Island 5, New Brunswick 3, Alberta 2, Manitoba and Nova Scotia 1 each. During the past year 398 cows qualified, with an average production of 8,152 pounds of 4 per cent milk.

Campbellford Breeder Has Holstein With Canadian Record

A Canadian Record for lifetime production of milk on twice-a-day milking has been established by Glenkindie Opal Posch, a purebred Holstein cow owned by E. L. Anderson, of Campbellford, Ont. More than 95 per cent of all production records made are on twice-a-day milking.

Opal has produced a total of 228,455 lbs. milk containing 7,540 lbs. fat in 14 lactations on official Record of Performance test under the supervision of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. This is the equivalent of 91,382 quarts or enough to provide 2 quarts a day to the average household for the fantastic period of 125 years.

Five of Opal's 14 records were made in the yearly division and nine in 305 days. Her latest record of 20,389 lbs. milk and 683 lbs. fat was made as a sixteen-year-old and is the second highest ever completed in Canada at such an advanced age. Her best yearly record of 21,694 lbs. milk and 708 lbs. fat was made as a nine-year old.

Opal has been more than a champion producer in Lindsay Anderson's eyes, for she has been a real pet of the family all during her lifetime. How much the constant care and affection she received has contributed to her outstanding production would be hard to estimate. Mr. Anderson reports that she never looked better, despite a slight lameness. She is expected to calve early in May and should add materially to her lifetime total production.

Opal has produced eight sons and six daughters. She is a perfect example of the kind of cow that dairymen are seeking for she has produced well on each lactation, has established a Championship lifetime mark and is a good looking individual too. In fact good looking enough to be Grand Champion at the Northumberland County Black and White Day in 1948 and Reserve Grand Champion in 1944 and 1949. She has been officially classified Very Good, the second highest rating obtainable for body conformation.

DISTEMPER OUTBREAK

Dr. Harry Burns, veterinarian, says distemper among dogs "is the worst it's ever been in this district." Among the hardest hit points are Trenton, Bayside and Belleville.

HAY YIELDS AS AFFECTED BY FERTILIZER ELEMENTS

Dr. B. J. Finn of the Field Husbandry Division of the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa says the intelligent use of fertilizers is as important with hay crops as with any other crop.

Among the factors to be considered in determining the quantity of fertilizer for any particular crop are the nature of the soil and the previous treatment of the land in manuring and cropping. Information relevant to soil texture, drainage, lime requirement, and the availability of plant food constituents is most helpful in deciding the fertilizer needs of a crop.

The effect of fertilizer elements in 29 hay tests, over a period of thirteen years on different soil types in Carleton County, varying in texture from sand to clay loam, indicates the following results:

Applications of nitrogen to the oat crop produced an average decrease in the yields of first-year hay by 232 pounds of dry matter per acre. Phosphorus treatments increased the yield of hay, particularly on the finer textured soils, showing an average increase for all tests of 771 pounds of dry matter per acre. Applications of potassium resulted in a slight increase in the yield of hay on all soils except the clay loams, increasing the dry matter per acre, in all tests, by an average of 145 pounds.

The farmer interested in grain alone, should apply nitrogen in addition to phosphorus and potassium, but when the grain crop serves as a companion crop for a legume hay seeding, a relatively lower level of nitrogen will be required, with emphasis on phosphorus and potassium treatments.

Grass and legume crops provide more and better hay if use is made of fertilizers. Farmers are advised to fertilize hay according to Provincial recommendations.

CONFERENCE PLANS HELP FOR SHEEP INDUSTRY

At the invitation of the Hon. Douglas S. Harkness, Minister of Agriculture, representatives of the sheep industry from across Canada met in Ottawa recently. The conference was called to plan a programme to stimulate sheep production and improve the position of the industry.

In welcoming the delegates, Mr. Harkness pointed out that sheep production is one branch of agriculture that can be expanded at this time without fear of exceeding the needs of the domestic market for either wool or lamb.

The conference, under the chairmanship of S. C. Barry, Director of the Production Service, Ottawa, agreed on a number of suggestions presented by the delegates to increase interest in sheep production, and recommended the appointment of a continuing committee to give the subject further study and develop the groundwork for a broad national sheep policy.

Federal and provincial departments of agriculture were urged to increase their extension work in training young men who lacked experience with sheep in the details of sheep management. Instances were reported where this had been successful with 4-H Sheep Clubs organized under the supervision of experienced men.

The place of cross-breeding programmes in improving production efficiency was explored. It was suggested that more effective use could be made of surplus cross-bred western females for farm flocks. It was reported that some 30,000 head of western range ewe stock had been exported last fall to the United States. Organized cross-breeding programs using existing local breeds were reported to have shown considerable promise.

Several delegates urged the need of a better system of farm credit to provide capital for the establishment of new flocks in areas suited to sheep raising and to assist present flock owners to enlarge their operations.

The conference endorsed earlier requests made to the Federal Department of Agriculture to give greater stability to the sheep industry by providing deficiency payments on wool, through the Agricultural Stabilization Act.

It was established that there was a considerable potential market for freshly killed Canadian lamb and that a major problem facing the industry was to develop production to meet this demand.

To encourage the consumption of Canadian lamb in competition with other meats and insure its identification from imported lamb, the conference requested that the grading and branding of dressed lambs be extended through the co-operation of provincial and federal government marketing services.

Representatives attended the conference from the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, The Canadian Sheep Breeders' Association, several local sheep associations, the National Council of Canadian Meat Packers, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the Inter-provincial Farmers Union Council and from provincial and federal departments of agriculture and agricultural colleges.

For every worker in Canada there is a harnessed hydro-electric capacity of three horse power.

FARM RADIO FORUMS REPORTING

Do you think federal aid to education would endanger provincial rights? 89 per cent of the Farm Forums across Canada replied in the negative to this question when they were discussing the topic "Education — Who Should Pay?" The Forums were told that approximately 65 per cent of local education costs are met by municipal taxation, most of the balance of the finances needed for education being provided by the provincial governments. 90 per cent of the Forums did not think that this was a satisfactory basis for obtaining money for our schools. Half of the forums held this opinion because they felt that the present system is unfair to property owners, they thought that all citizens should pay for education. 30 per cent thought that education opportunities should be equal for all — not limited by local or regional economic conditions.

Among the suggested changes which the Forums thought should be made was more federal aid to education. The following is a typical quotation from the Forums: "We believe that federal aid to education is long overdue and should come immediately in the form of per pupil grants. We feel that if equal opportunity for all in the field of education is to be a reality, it can only be accomplished by federal aid to education." Purl Brook Ashdale, of Antigonish County, Nova Scotia.

MORE WHEAT FROM SHELTERED FIELDS

Saskatchewan has proved the value of tree plantations in protecting wheat fields from evaporation of moisture caused by prairie winds. Shelter belts planted on the edges of fields have increased the average yield of wheat by five bushels per acre as compared with unprotected fields.

SPEED

Around Toronto anyone is hard put to avoid hearing stories about the speeds and hazards of No. 401 Highway and the Queen Elizabeth. If you do, you'll see the same stories in the daily press.

A few days ago, a reporter accompanied O.P.P. patrol officers on a radar speed timing excursion. He was able to hear at first hand the stories of a long list of apprehended drivers.

One thing about it . . . invariably the driver had a story to tell of how fast one had to drive to stay with the traffic. The obvious paradox in each of the stories was that the driver involved was the fastest driver on that part of the road at that particular moment!

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kent, River Valley, Honoured On 50th Anniversary

On Saturday evening, March 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kent entertained at a dinner in honour of Mr. Kent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kent, fiftieth wedding anniversary. There were fourteen members of the immediate family present at this event.

Guests included Mrs. Harold Pratt, of Ottawa, sister-in-law of Mrs. Fred Kent; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kent, of Concession, brother of Mr. Fred Kent; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Savage and Julie, R.R. 3, Frankford, daughter of M. and Mrs. F. G. Kent; Mrs. G. Wannamaker, of Oshawa, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kent and infant son, of Batavia.

Julia Savage pinned a boutonniere on her grandfather and Dennis Kent, pinned on his grandmother's corsage and Margaret (Kent) Wannamaker presented her mother with an orchid. Edward Kent on behalf of the children and grandchildren and great grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kent, presented a card containing a fifty dollar bill. There were numerous other gifts and congratulatory messages from relatives and friends. Among the many messages was one from John Whitfield Foster, of Birmingham, England, father of Mrs. Edward Kent, and a telegram came from a nephew, Kenneth Pratt, of Vancouver, B.C., and one from Florida, U.S.A.

When the wedding cake was brought in, Mr. Fred Kent capably helped his bride of 50 years cut the cake. As the cake was served Mr. Walter Savage proposed a toast to the bride and groom of 50 years. Mr. Kent very convincingly replied by saying, "that if all grooms could be as fortunate as he in his choice of a bride, there would be much happiness for all."

During the evening many flash pictures were taken and there was much reminiscing among the older people and it proved to be a happy get-together prior to the "At Home" on the following day.

STIRLING CENTENNIAL, AUG. 3rd to 6th, 1958

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .

In compiling facts about our local Post Office, many unusual items of interest have come to light? Several possible records have been established, of which perhaps, few of our readers are aware.

Three Judds — Father, mother and daughter held the office of Postmaster, serving in all from 1872 to 1913.

Three Hullins have received official appointments also — Fred as Postmaster, Harry as Acting Postmaster, and Miss Mary as Assistant Postmaster.

Three locations have been occupied by the local Post Office — approximately on the site of H. C. Bird's Grocery before the fire of 1908, then in the Melkjohn block and the present situation on the corner of Charlotte and North Streets.

Since the registration of the Post Office under the name of Stirling, the Postmasters have included four names only: Parker, Judd, Hullin and Houchin.

Few and common also have been the christian names in use: Robert (Parker), William (Judd), Agnes (Judd), Mary (Judd) and (Hullin), Fred (Hullin and Houchin), and Harry (Hullin).

Miss Mary Judd served for over half a century and Miss Mary Hullin has been employed for twenty-seven years.

Kent, River Valley, was tastefully decorated with yellow daffodils for the "At Home" in honour of Mr. Kent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kent, who observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, March 2nd.

The many callers were met at the door by Mr. Walter Savage and after a brief visit with the honoured guests were taken into the dining room by Mrs. Walter Savage, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kent. They were invited to partake of the many tasty sandwiches, cookies and the wedding cake, made by Mrs. Edward Kent and nicely decorated by a close neighbour, Mrs. Philip Conley, for the occasion.

Many of the guests were former associates of Mr. F. Kent from the Canadian National Railway and many from St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, and the Orange Lodge.

There were four generations of the Kent family present on this happy occasion: Mr. F. G. Kent, Mr. Edward Kent, Dennis Kent and his three weeks' old son, Gregory Dennis Kent. The happy couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts, cards, phone calls and a telegram from John Diefenbaker, of Ottawa and Lee Grills and Mrs. Grills, of Belleville, spent a social half hour with them.

The friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kent did much to make this special day a very happy and memorable day for Mr. and Mrs. F. Kent.

Local and Personal

Reeve J. V. Holt and Mrs. Holt left on Saturday for a vacation in New York City and Florida.

Rawdon Junior Farmers Organize

A large group of Rawdon Junior Farmers met in the Township Hall, Harold, on Monday, March 3rd, to re-organize the club which has not been in operation since 1952. Carl Reid acted as chairman and called upon Jack Riddell, Assistant Agricultural Representative, who spoke briefly, outlining some phases of Junior Farmer activities.

Mr. Bruce Servos and Mr. Stuart McCarton, representatives from the Ontario Hydro Commission, were present and spoke to the members on many of the different aspects of hydro development in Ontario. Mr. Servos explained to the members where the commission obtained the money needed for the numerous expenses that have to be met and how it is applied to meet those needs. The speaker mentioned the many benefits received from hydro and also demonstrated very effectively how dangerous it can be to overload your circuits and to continue to use wiring that is not adequate for your needs.

A beautiful coloured film, "Power on the Ottawa," was shown and viewers learned more of the tremendous power that this river supplies.

Carl Reid expressed the thanks of the Club to the guests and then called upon Jack Riddell to conduct the election of officers.

Members of the new executive prepared a table for a pot luck lunch. Rombough's Orchestra provided the music for dancing for the remainder of the evening.

The belief was expressed that the evening was a success as the Club already has a membership of 37 with more prospective members.

Citizens Are Urged to Give Generously In Support of This Worthy Organization

The Stirling Group Committee of the Boy Scouts will launch a financial campaign on Saturday next, March 15th, to raise two hundred dollars to carry on the work of Scouting in this community.

Stirling Scouts' quota to Provincial Headquarters has increased from $42 to $127 and rising costs of operation make it necessary to appeal for financial aid. This money goes to operate headquarters, gives the boys insurance coverage in case of accident, salaries of Field Commissioners and other operating costs. Formerly the provincial quota was $200 per hundred population, but this has been changed to $100 per boy and leader.

Honorary membership cards will be on sale by the members of the Group Committee and citizens are urged to give generously to assure the Boy Scout movement in this area ample financial support. These cards may be obtained from David Duffin, Harold Baker, X. P. Mayhew, Bob Cooke, Bill Heath, Stewart McArthur and J. Irish.

Give today to help the men of tomorrow.

Travelogue of Mexico Enjoyed By St Paul's W.A.

St. Paul's W.A. held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 4th with Mrs. Edwin Warren acting as hostess.

The church parlours were filled almost to capacity with members, visitors and several men folk of the congregation to enjoy the travelogue on Mexico, prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey and presented by Mrs. Bailey.

The President, Mrs. R. A. Patterson, opened the meeting at 8.00 p.m. with the theme song, followed with prayer and extended a warm welcome to all.

Mrs. Earl Eggleton, convenor of the programme, took charge and conducted the devotional with the singing of hymn 31, followed by the Scripture Lesson, taken from the 19th chapter of 1st Kings, verses 1 to 18, read by Mrs. Sid Williams. The commentary on the lesson was also given by Mrs. Williams, closing with prayer.

Mrs. Eggleton welcomed Mrs. Gordon Bailey, who so kindly consented to furnish the entertainment of the evening, in sharing with us their trip to Mexico by beautiful slides.

Mrs. Bailey first gave a very instructive talk on Mexico, which provided very educational and helpful as she proceeded to show the many beautiful pictures they had taken. It being Christmas holidays while they were in Mexico many of the pictures showed the lovely decorations used, such as the customary Santa sleigh and reindeer; also very noticeable was a decorated Christmas tree in the lounge of a beautiful hotel and opposite the tree was a lovely lily in full bloom. The pictures of the homes, churches and public places were most beautiful and have to be seen to be appreciated. This colourful film seemed to end all too soon and everyone was very happy for the opportunity of visiting Mexico in this way.

Mrs. Don Williams very ably expressed the thanks of all present to Mrs. Bailey for the effort she put forth to provide the entertainment of the evening.

Mrs. Patterson resumed the chair and conducted a brief business session and reminded the ladies of the overseas sale to be packed in May.

Mrs. B. Glendinning favoured the group with a solo, "Eternal Life," which was very much appreciated.

The meeting closed by repeating the benediction and the group in charge served refreshments, cafeteria style, from pretty St. Patrick decorated tables, which everyone enjoyed.

Mrs. C. Macklin on behalf of all present, thanked the group for the lovely evening.

Eggleton Mission Band

On Friday afternoon the February meeting of Eggleton Mission Band was held at the school with 20 children and 3 adults in attendance.

At the front of the school on a table was a lovely worship centre with a winter scene in the background and in the front the open Bible.

Audrey Stapley presided and opened the meeting with the hymn, "Sowing in the Morning," with Sharon Reide at the piano. All repeated the Mission Band Purpose. For the Scripture Lesson, Audrey Stapley read the 67th Psalm, after which Mrs. Fitchett offered prayer. A reading, "The Snowflakes," was given by Glen Stapley.

The next meeting will be on Friday afternoon, March 21st. Sheila Clarke was appointed to arrange the worship centre for the next meeting.

Wayne McMullen gathered the offering, which was dedicated with a prayer read by Diane Prest.

The leader, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, told in story form the chapter, "Hana Discovers the City" from the study book. She also showed a number of pictures of Japanese children at their means, at play, how they sleep and also displayed a sample of Japanese writing. These pictures are to be pasted in a scrapbook on Japan. The leader then divided the pupils into groups with each group drawing a different picture — umbrellas, shoes, Japanese eating bowls, lanterns, etc. The best of these drawings will also be put in the scrapbook.

A short but lovely children's prayer service was held with Beverly Stapley, Grant Reid, Isabelle Prest, Marilyn Stapley, Ricky Phillips, Lois Danford, Sheila Clarke and Sharon Reide taking part.

Mrs. Fitchett gave a short talk and showed the children twigs of cotton picked in South Carolina. The meeting closed with the singing of "Jesus Bids Us Shine" and prayer by Mrs. Reide.

The lunch convenors, Audrey Stapley and Grant Reid, served dainty homemade cookies.

FORECASTING LIGHTNING

Scientists are studying the use of radar to detect thunderstorms from which lightning may strike to cause forest fires. By tracking these storms with radar instruments, rangers can be informed in advance of the localities where lightning may set the woods ablaze, thereby enabling them to despatch crews to the scene of danger.

A Traveller's Note Book

"How does it come about that so many 'Good Drivers' are involved in accidents?" The question was asked recently and I found myself searching for the answer. When I had thought it over, I was reminded of the many occasions I have heard, "He was such a good driver." Personally I don't think there is such an animal. There are, I suggest — drivers, and drivers. There may be a number of drivers whom you could quite properly write off as "Bad Drivers;" the rest are drivers who take reasonable care, do not overdrive their lights or take unnecessary chances. So that to be called a "Good Driver" is to say you are one of about 90 per cent of drivers. There are a whole lot of fast drivers who have not yet had an accident — they are not good drivers, they are driving on their nerves. Accidents are a matter of a split second or a thousandth part of an inch, good driving does not enter the picture where an accident is concerned. One of the drivers may be the victim of another person's folly, but, for heaven's sake, let's drop this fantasy about good driving.

Which reminds me of whales. A Mediaeval natural history book claims that whales live to 1001 years. What the extra one is for I do not know unless it is to give good measure. The only connection that I can see with the matter mentioned above is the fact that the whales have not yet introduced the automobile into their transport system.

Let's switch to birds. The exotic cockatoo lives as long as 85 to 100 years; the domestic pigeon 35 years; the pheasant 27 years. However, none of this will help you. Sure, the whale and the bird know nothing of cars, but what of the harpoon, the bird catcher and the gun. I think we had better rest satisfied with belonging to the human family and stick around as long as we can. Don't try to prove you are a good driver, there is always another fool on the road.

OR DOGS. Six thousand, nine hundred and sixteen dogs passed through the doors of a dog show recently. It takes far fewer than that to make our sidewalk almost impassible.

Also the care of dogs seems to have broken into a pretty fast market. You may now buy Amplex tablets for bad breath and chlorophyll shampoos. One wonders how dogs so deodorized can recognize each other! I can imagine one saying to another: "Buy Amplex and your best friend won't know you."

Tin Can Mails

There comes news that the Island of Niuafoou (half way between Fiji and Samoa) is to return to the "Tin Can Mail." Years ago, the Island blew up, or was devastated by volcanic eruption. Now there is to be a resettlement for valuable copra deposits have been discovered in the Island. Years ago the only method of mailing found possible was to have native boys swim out to a ship anchored at a distance. These boys carried the mail in oil drums or tin cans. Another Tin Can Mail Service is carried on with the Cocos Islands. I am looking for a stamp with marks such as "Tin Can Mail Cocos Keeling Is" on it. It would be worth a fortune.

Radar

Sir Winston Churchill is really too much of a realist. In discussing jealousies and grudges of war, he mentions those who have been sadly neglected. There was no room for them in the "Victory Parade" and none in the "Honours List," yet, as Sir Winston says: "It was the 'Makers Possible' such as Watson Watt and his many 'Back-room' boys who won the war. Every Commander in Chief had his 'tame magician' and civvy-coated scientist who sat with him in the seats of the mighty, and who might have said as did the Duke of Wellington: "My God, I don't believe we would have won had I not been there." Certainly Radar did make a decisive difference.

River Valley W.I. Notes

At the River Valley Institute meeting held on Thursday of last week, the President, Mrs. Ralph Utman, appointed Mrs. Percy MacMullen as convener of the Unitarian Service Committee for River Valley Women's Institute. She was authorized to collect, pack and ship the clothing and it is planned to send one parcel next week and another the end of May. This is a project of the F.W.I.O. under the direction of Mrs. James Haggerty, Napanee, Provincial President. Twelve lovely parcels of both new and used articles were handed in at the Institute meeting. Anyone wishing to donate now can leave their parcel either in Stirling or at the school house Friday evening.

The United Nations are asking for layettes for Arab refugee babies. They feel that many articles can be made from material around the house, however new articles are acceptable. The U.S.C. will be grateful for the tiniest article. Then too, they would appreciate children's clothing aged three to fifteen years. Long sleeved sweaters, any colour or mixture of colours and any good used children's clothing.

The Unitarian Service Committee are hoping to send 25,000 layettes for Arab refugee babies and 25,000 pull-overs and cardigans to Korea for children up to fifteen years of age. Thus, they hope to give comfort, warmth and happiness to these needy little children abroad.

Ocean transportation and overseas inland transportation are granted free and the U.S.C. gifts are distributed regardless of creed or nationality and only according to the greatest human need and they are given in the name of Canada.

Springbrook W.A. Met Thursday

A successful pot luck dinner was held in the basement of Springbrook United Church on Thursday, March 6th, sponsored by the Woman's Association with Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. Edward Bateman as hostesses. Proceeds from the dinner were $38.00.

Following the dinner 30 members and 3 visitors assembled for their regular meeting. Words of welcome were extended to all by the President, Mrs. Carman Sine, who opened the meeting with the theme hymn, theme prayer and W.A. prayer.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Ralph Thompson, the theme being "Prayer, God Talking." The Scripture taken from 1 Kings 19: 1-18, was read by Mrs. Joe Thompson, after which Psalm 24 was read in unison. Mrs. Percy Smith read the theme thoughts. A prayer for our Missionary, Miss Gould, was given by Mrs. Kenneth Thompson. The worship closed with a prayer followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The roll call, "A sentence prayer" was well responded to. The members reported 193 cards sent and 19 calls made. The correspondence consisted of two "thank yous." The report for the February visiting committee was given. Volunteers for this committee for March are Mrs. Fred McKeown and Mrs. John McKeown. The flower and fruit committee reported cards sent to the sick, while a letter of sympathy was sent by the Secretary to a bereaved member. Mrs. Beare told of attending a W.M.S. meeting at Napanee recently and explained briefly the highlights of the day.

It was agreed the Association would cater to the Progressive Conservative Rally on March 26th to be held in the Orange Hall, Springbrook, with Mrs. Gordon Bailey, convener, Mrs. Gerald Broadworth and Mrs. Joe Thompson named as a committee.

Mrs. Delbert Fleming reporting for the cupboard committee, told of contacts made re stove estimates, etc. A discussion followed which will be given further consideration. Other items of business were discussed.

cussed, these too will be dealt with at a later date.

A very interesting topic on "Youth" was given by Mrs. George Thompson. Readings were given by Mrs. Chas. Gordanier and Mrs. Bert McCoy. A contest was put on by Mrs. Reg McKeown with everyone sharing the prize. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. H. E. Beare.

The hostesses for the April meeting will be the Executive, when the Association entertains the Mission Band and their mothers.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

WILL POWER

I have a secret that will put you one up on rivals.

Some years ago a smart psychologist pointed out that whenever will power and imagination come in conflict, imagination wins. Almost immediately, 98% of people tossed will power out the window and put their chips on imagination. It became old fashioned to speak of will power.

Nevertheless, the secret I disclose to you now is this: Will power is a billion times more important to you than imagination — and the two need not come into conflict. With most of the people looking down their nose at will power, you can soon excel by giving yours the respect it deserves. And it deserves a great deal of respect. I agree with Dr. Russell Conway, who says: "There has been altogether too much talk about the secret of success. Success has no secret. Her voice is forever ringing through the market place and crying in the wilderness, and the burden of her cry is one will — will. Any man who hears and heeds that cry is equipped fully to climb to the very heights of life."

Every day brings opportunities to exercise will power. Grasp those opportunities, even in small matters, and the power of your will increases in all directions.

An experiment proved that to be true. A group of college boys exercised the grip of their left hands. In each case, it was discovered that when a boy had increased the strength of his left hand, there was also a remarkable increase in the strength of his right — even though it had not been exercised. The conclusion was simple: The will, as well as the muscle, had been strengthened by determination to improve.

Personal improvement is not a popular gospel these days, perhaps, but it is a valid one. Somebody must do the extra working, thinking, planning and producing if we're to have the good things everybody is demanding. Governments produce nothing, and if they are to continue giving to one group or another they must extract the wherewithal from some other group. Demands on government have grown so large lately that governments have been extracting funds from us all, rich and poor, so it has reached a point where we'll either have to stop demanding or start producing a great deal more efficiently than we are today.

Such productivity can be expected only from men and women with the will to improve. Those who lack it will be left at the post.

Annual Report I.O.D.E. Secretary

I am pleased to present the 17th Annual Report of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter, I.O.D.E.

This has been another year of activities and accomplishments in our Chapter and we are proud to be a part of it.

Ten monthly meetings were held during the year. Nine of these were held in the members' homes and the April meeting was at the I.O.O.F. Hall, when we were favoured to have with us Mrs. Harold Moore, Regent of the I.O.D.E. at Perth, Ontario, to show her slides and talk on her Caribbean cruise. At this time also, Mrs. H. C. Martin was installed as our New Honorary Regent. The annual meeting was preceded by a banquet.

Two quilting bees were held at the homes of Mrs. Donald Francis and Mrs. Bruce Glendinning.

We regret the loss of Mrs. Ray Malory who withdrew her membership. The Chapter has 49 members and one life member.

Mrs. Donald Williams was welcomed into the Order in January.

The annual Spinsters' Dance and the Spring Fashion Show were both very successful.

As Secretary, and delegate of our Chapter, I was privileged to attend the Provincial Annual Convention in Hamilton in April. We were fortunate to have four other members also attend this Convention.

The Festival of Sacred Praise was held in Stirling again this year and we were pleased to assist in a small way with a $10.00 donation.

Mrs. Jack Weatherall has given much time and thought to the preparation of our first Chapter scrapbook.

Another first this year was the "Dessert Bridge" held in September with much success.

A series of six teen-age dances was sponsored at three week intervals during the fall and early winter.

In peacetime the main work of the Order is in the field of education. A second bursary of $75.00 was presented to Miss Joyce Tyrer, now attending the Provincial Annual Convention in Peterborough. The Stirling Public School was presented with $25.00 worth of film strips. At Commencement, Gerald Malloy was given the book, "Famous Canadian Stories" for attaining the highest standing in Grade VIII. Christmas gifts to the value of $10.00 were sent to our adopted school at Minden, Ont.

The Chapter subscribes 100 percent to Echoes.

In November members of the Chapter attended the Memorial Service at the Cenotaph. Mrs. Edwin Warren, Vice Regent, placed the wreath in memory of those who gave their lives. The Standard was carried by Miss Shirley Francis.

The History of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter, I.O.D.E., was completed for the Stirling Centennial Book.

A picture of the Hon. J. R. Cooke was framed and with a suitable plaque was placed in the local Hydro office. Mr. Cooke was at one time Provincial Hydro Chairman.

The following allocations were made to Provincial and National Chapters:

Lacy Morrison Memorial Fund, $100.00; Korean Fund, $50.00; British and European Relief Fund, $25.00; Workroom Maintenance Fund, $10.00; Shipping Fund, $10.00; Commonwealth Relations Fund, $10.00; Canadian Scene, $5.00; National Film Fund, $1.00; Provincial Film Fund, $1.00.

The following articles were shipped to Headquarters for distribution: 2 quilts, 3 layettes, 3 pair pyjamas, 4 dresses, 1 dress and panties, 1 blouse, 9 baby jackets, 2 toys, 2 pair Korean socks, 5 pair men's socks, 6 pair booties, 1 sweater, 1 baby sweater, 1 bonnet, 4 bibs, 4 pair mittens, 3 dozen and 3 diapers.

At Christmas time a needy family was supplied with a food hamper, toys for the children and clothing.

Polls Close At Six O'Clock

Voters who may be accustomed in federal elections to voting just before the polls close, had better take note to what hour the polls actually do close March 31st.

That warning is given by Chief

Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay.

The reason: The last four federal elections have been held when daylight saving time was in effect in large areas of Canada.

The law says polls must be open between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. local standard time. In warm weather elections that meant 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. local daylight time. But not this year.

In an interview, Mr. Castonguay expressed concern that many voters may not realize the deadline for voting.

The Canada Elections Act states, however, that persons who are at — but not actually in — the polling station at closing time will be allowed to vote. This stipulation will cover any cases where last-minute rushes create a lineup of voters.

River Valley W.I.

On Thursday, March 6th, Mrs. John Kane was hostess to River Valley Women's Institute with an attendance of twenty-seven. Mrs. Ralph Utman read a poem, "Stand up to Trouble" and opened the meeting with the Ode and prayer. She expressed thanks for cards and gifts for herself and baby Gary and to Mrs. E. Carr who carried out her duties during her absence, and welcomed the visitors.

Mrs. J. R. Donohoe gave a full report of the activities for the past month and read several messages of thanks.

An invitation to attend a "Home Economic Service" at Marsh Hill United Church with Pine Grove W.I. as hostess branch on Tuesday, April 15th will be accepted. Those who attend will provide their own box lunch. The course is on "Cultural Activities" and will point to the enrichment of everyday living through the appreciation of literature, music, art, nature and people. The hours are from 10.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.

A letter re "The Tweedsmuir District Workshop" was read and a delegate will be appointed in April. A letter re "The Ceylon Flood Disaster" was presented and it was authorized to forward a contribution of ten dollars.

The Annual Meeting will be held one day earlier, on Wednesday, April 2nd at the home of Miss Marion Carlisle. The nominating committee will be Mrs. George Heasman and Mrs. Ross Bush.

A new Provincial Office has been set up at 20 Spadina Road, Toronto 4, Ontario, and all correspondence should be sent to Mrs. Gordon Maynard at that address after April 1st.

A letter was read re "The New Provincial Rulings of the F.W.I.O." It will be noted that the Standing Committee of Community Activities and Public Relations will be dispensed with at all levels; members can belong to only one W.I. Branch in any fiscal year. The new life membership rule is fifteen consecutive years of membership in any one branch prior to the time the life membership is conferred. Many other details of Institute work were outlined for reference.

The Friendship Link Secretary read extracts from two Institute meetings of Abbot's Leigh, England, and displayed their new printed programme, newspapers, etc.

Mrs. Roy Bush spoke briefly re the Stirling Centennial and suggested a float and display of antiques. A written account of River Valley W.I. has been prepared for insertion in the souvenir book. The Secretary was authorized to forward $15.00 to the Treasurer of the fund for the insertion of River Valley W.I. greetings above the crest "For Home and Country."

Plans were made to sponsor a party for the teen-agers and others in the Valley on Easter Monday. A committee was appointed to complete plans. A silver collection will be taken to defray expenses.

It was decided to confer a life membership and one will be chosen in accordance with the new Provincial ruling. The Institute has four life members, Mrs. Percy Utman, Miss Flossie Rosebush, Mrs. Jennie Donohoe and Mrs. J. L. Donohoe.

The special F.W.I.O. project is layettes for Arab refugee babies, sweaters and cardigans for Korean children; also good used children's clothing and new articles will also be accepted.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen was appointed to pack and ship the parcels to the Unitarian Service Committee depot. Twelve parcels of new and used clothing were handed in at the meeting. The first parcel will be shipped next week and the second parcel at the end of May.

A display of heirloom articles showed a Bible dated 1883, a wedding blouse 1864, letters dated 1792; also vases, cups and saucers, pictures etc.

The members were reminded to keep valuable old records for the Tweedsmuir History. Mrs. George Heasman said the 4-H Club Girls' Achievement Day is scheduled for March 29th.

Programme

Mrs. Alex Bush presided over the programme which she and Mrs. Roy Irven had prepared. Mrs. G. Heasman and Mrs. Phil Conley were in charge of assembly singing.

Mrs. Gerald Brooks gave the motto and read a poem by Robert W. Service entitled, "Home and Love." The motto was — a house is built of logs and stone, of tiles and posts and piers, a home is built of loving deeds that stands a thousand years.

The roll call on the theme "How to postpone old age," stressed keep busy, stretch each day, keep cheerful and above all, never cross a bridge until you come to it.

Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh read "The Romance of the McIntosh Apple." This gave a vivid picture of the propagation of this versatile apple. The story was also told of the monument erected in memory of the man who gave Canada and the world this most popular apple.

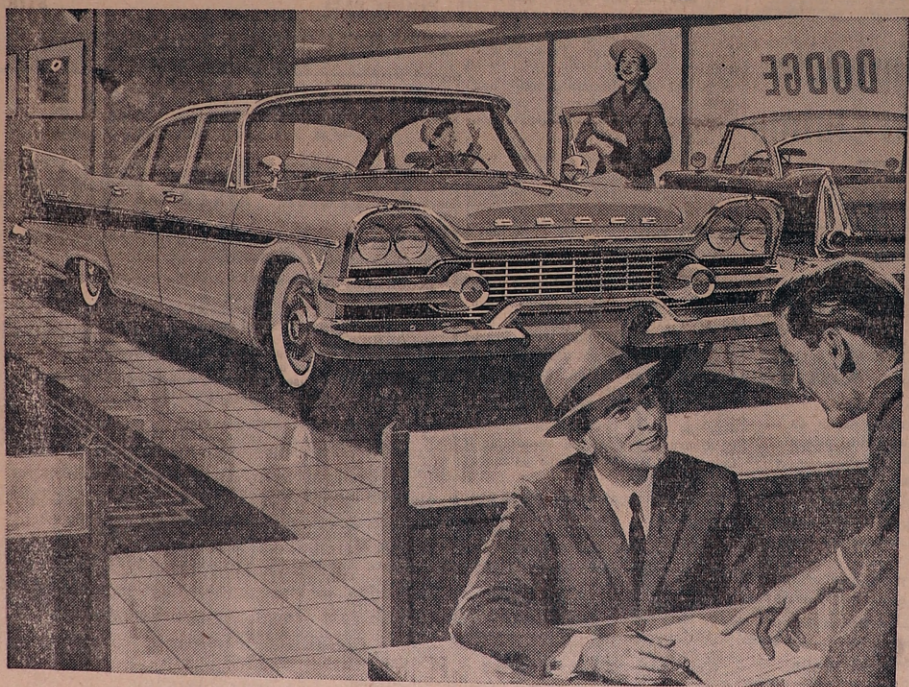

A worthwhile paper on "Current Events" was prepared by Mrs. Allen McDonnell and read by Mrs. Roy Tucker. The message gave up-to-date news items at home, abroad and in the Valley. Mrs. Glenn Brooks rendered a piano solo.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave the topic, the theme being, "One is never too old to begin new ventures." She said papers and magazines carry stories of women in their seventies who are attending universities, learning to swim or play the piano. She gave many illustrations of folk who had been world famous in their senior years. Women should enrich their minds, widen their horizons, cultivate pen pals, choose a new hobby and if possible travel.

The convener read a poem, "Memories of a Pioneer Car" and the meeting closed with The Queen.

The hostess and lunch committee served sandwiches and cake.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

APPLICATION OF FERTILIZERS AS FOLIAGE SPRAYS

The extent of which foliage sprays can be economically employed as a source of fertilizer depends to a considerable extent upon the element involved. A distinction in this respect should be made on the basis of the two main groups of elements; the major and the trace elements.

The concentration of the different trace elements removed by a crop is only a small fraction of the quantity of a major element removed. This is important since the maximum quantity that can be applied as a spray is limited by the concentration of the salt that can be used without having a caustic effect on the plant. Thus if a 400 bushel crop of potatoes removed 175 pounds of potassium but only one pound of boron, it is possible to supply the whole boron requirements in three sprays of 2 1/2 pounds of borax but since more than ten pounds of a potassium salt per 100 gallons will burn the foliage, it is possible to supply only eighteen pounds of potassium in three sprays. Phosphorus is taken up very readily by the foliage and it has been shown for the tomato that while as much as seven per cent of the phosphorus requirement of the developing fruit was supplied by a single spray, four sprays resulted in a phosphorus uptake of less than 50 per cent of the phosphorus required. As with the other elements, the effects of nitrogen applied to the foliage are transitory and successive applications at weekly intervals are required if sprays are to constitute a major source of applied nutrients.

Even though the actual percentage of the applied fertilizer absorbed by the plant may be considerably greater when applied as a foliage spray, the total amount that may be applied is limited, and the application of such major elements can only be considered as an emergency or supplemental treatment where a quick response is required. Experimental results have not indicated that sufficient fertilizer can be applied to the foliage of crops to replace, or even materially reduce the basic preplanting applications of fertilizer.

CORN FOR GRAIN AND SILAGE

Corn hybrids used for grain or silage should be carefully chosen, because there is a wide variation among them and not all hybrids are equally good.

Among the most important factors to consider in choosing a hybrid are yield, maturity or adaption, and standability. These are important whether the hybrid is to be used for grain or silage.

Ability to produce a high yield is essential, but it must be related to proper maturity. For example, a good silage hybrid should mature to the stage where the ears are in the late milk or dough condition at the time of cutting, which should be normally before the frost occurs. At this stage the corn contains about 70 per cent of moisture, which is just about right to make good silage. To have the corn reach the late milk or dough stage may mean choosing a somewhat earlier hybrid than some growers have been accustomed to using, but though this may mean some loss in bulk, the better maturity and ear quality will compensate for this loss and produce silage of higher feed value.

In the case of the hybrid to be used for grain, one should be chosen that will mature well in the average season. In eastern Ontario and southwestern Quebec the moisture content of the ears should be down to 25 to 30 per cent at harvest and in western Ontario 20 to 25 per cent of moisture. This is essential for safe crib storage. Properly matured corn will pick and husk easier than corn that is immature. This well adapted hybrid yields higher on the average than one that is too early or too late.

Standability is more important in grain corn than silage corn because it remains standing longer in the field before harvest. While cost hybrids have good root strength and are resistant to lodging, they vary in resistance to stalk rot, which affects the lower part of the stalk. Stalk rot, and consequent stalk breakage, does not affect corn that is immature and therefore silage corn is harvested before it develops. But as corn matures stalk rot may cause affected plants to break over below the ear. Where this occurs the ears may be lost because the picker will not handle them or they may rot through contact with wet soil. While there are no known hybrids that are immune to stalk rot, there are some that are either more resistant or tolerant than others.

If a grower finds it difficult to choose from among the hybrids because of lack of knowledge concerning them, he should contact his local Agricultural Representative, or Experimental Farm officials for advice.

HONEY BEE COLONY STRENGTH

Careful attention to honeybee food supplies and queens in the spring, will enable colonies to develop properly and enhance the chances of securing a good crop of honey.

As the spring season approaches with its milder weather, honey bees will be taking cleansing flights. During this period the entrances to all colonies should be checked and if some colonies are inactive the apiarist should blow air into the entrance and then listen carefully. If there is no sound forthcoming, the entrance should be blocked to prevent the colony from being robbed out. Dr. C. A. Jamieson, Dominion Apiculturist with the Canada Department of Agriculture, says no colonies should be opened until the temperature reaches 65 degrees F.

So far as colony strength is concerned, Dr. Jamieson points out that two weak colonies should never be united. Any colonies that would cover less than four frames with bees should be marked so they can be united with colonies of medium strength. If drone laying queens or laying workers are present in a colony their presence can be detected by raised cappings of the brood. Colonies in this condition should also be united immediately, Dr. Jamieson says.

Colonies with less than four full frames of honey should be marked for feeding at the first opportunity. As considerable water is required for brood rearing, a dilute sugar syrup, consisting of one part water and one part sugar by weight or volume, should be fed. If combs of honey have been saved these should be used in place of the syrup but honey should not be fed to bees unless it was taken from colonies free of disease. A honey pail feeder with about 30 fine holes punched in the cover is the most suitable for feeding syrup to bees.

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .

The first cheese factory in Hastings County was erected in 1865 at Wellman's Corners?

Professor King came from the States to instruct in cheese making and James Whitton Jr. proved a very apt pupil for in six weeks he was able to carry on by himself. The Plum Grove Cheese Factory, as this was called, operated only about three years. Milk, of necessity, was hauled great distances and cows were not yet very numerous. Consequently the new industry did not prove a financial success and for some time cheese was made at the Whitton home.

Another factory was built in 1880; this time it was a more profitable venture. Mr. Whitton was engaged as cheesemaker, to be relieved by his wife, when he was presented with an opportunity to become Dairy Instructor. But fire changed the course of events and in 1890 the factory was completely destroyed, to be rebuilt in 1891. Mr. Whitton resumed his trade of cheesemaking which he carried on until his death in 1911, when his son-in-law, Thomas E. McCaughen accepted the responsibility of serving his community to the same degree of perfection as his predecessor. Altogether these two men carried out their duties in the dairy industry for over half a century.

In 1892, the Ontario Government opened a winter creamery in this well established factory. This might well be compared to a modern dairy school for cheesemakers came from great distances to be instructed in the making of butter. Milk was hauled from as far away as Sidney Town Hall. After two seasons, Mr. James Whitton purchased the equipment and operated the winter creamery as a private enterprise.

Through the influence and foresight of James Whitton, a cheese factory was established south of Stirling. In later years it has become known as the Shamrock Factory and is unique in that it is situated within the Village Limits.

A Cheese Board was organized in Belleville in 1891 but by 1896 Stirling boasted its own Cheese Board where cheese from some fifteen or more factories was sold on a competitive basis.

Anglican Diocesan W.A. Meeting

The Anglican Diocesan Women's Auxiliary held their March meeting in St. Luke's Parish Hall, Kingston. A hymn and the National Anthem were sung, after which Rev. H. C. Secker, rector of St. Luke's, offered prayer.

Miss Winifred Burns presided and Mrs. A. C. McCullum acted as recording secretary in the absence of Mrs. W. F. H. Mitchell. The President extended a welcome to all present and was delighted to see members from Brewer's Mills, Marmora and Bonarlaw. The attendance of out-of-town members gives great encouragement to the Board.

brought to a close in readiness for the coming annual meeting and the summer recess. This year the annual is to be held at Christ Church, Belleville, April 22nd to 24th. Mrs. T. H. Parker, Treasurer, reported a gift sent in to aid the work of the Technical Services Association under the Rev. F. A. Peter in Pakistan.

Mrs. A. R. Treadgold announced the formation of new branches of the Junior Auxiliary in Athens and Merrickville, and the reorganization of the branch in Lansdowne. The J.A. Rally is to be held in St. George's Hall, Kingston, on April 10th, and St. Paul's W.A. will act as hostess. The Little Helpers' Secretaries, under Mrs. Gerald Spence, will hold a conference in the afternoon while the Rally is in session. Mrs. Spence has made an earnest appeal for workers in the caravan mission during the summer months, and for teachers and helpers in the Indian schools and hospitals.

The special speaker was the Rev. Richard Fleming, rector of Marmora since 1956. He expressed himself as deeply interested in W.A. work and proud of his own branches. As his subject he chose the W.A. motto, "The Love of Christ Constrains" and gave a meditation on the wonder of God's great love which constrains or compels our love. This love for Christ must have an outlet, so consecrated work follows. When we begin to understand Christ's love only then do we begin to live.

Mrs. H. C. Secker expressed the gratitude and appreciation of the meeting to Rev. Fleming for his thoughtful message. He closed the meeting with prayers.

Mrs. J. V. Monaghan, President of St. Luke's W.A. invited all to remain.

Ladies of St. John's Hear of Life Among The Eskimos At Sugluk

Woman's Auxiliary Enjoy Good Programme In Parish Hall Tuesday Afternoon

St. John's W.A. monthly meeting was held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday afternoon, March 11th, with fifteen present and two visitors.

The President, Mrs. Melville Tanner, opened the meeting. Hymn 533 was sung with Mrs. Frank McGee acting as pianist. After the Members' Prayers and Litany, Mrs. Ken Mumby read from the second chapter of Philipians. Following the roll call which was answered by naming a mother in the Bible, two Board letters from Kingston were read by the President.

The Junior Auxiliary Rally will be held in Kingston April 10th. The 72nd W.A. Annual Diocesan meeting will be held in Christ Church, Belleville, April 22nd, 23rd and 24th. The Dominion W.A. Annual will be held in Saskatoon this year.

Mrs. Burton Woodbeck gave the Treasurer's report, which was followed by the reports from the secretaries of the various branches of the W.A.

Mrs. Villetorte took the chapter, "Opportunities Unlimited" from the study book on Japan. The N.S.K.K., which is the self-governing branch of the Anglican Communion in Japan, with the help of its Canadian partners, is making a brave effort, though a limited one, to obey our Lord's command to preach, teach and heal in His name. A limited effort because in comparison with the opportunity and need, the work is far from what it would be were more personnel and funds available.

Letter From Rev. and Mrs. D. Ellis

Mrs. Melville Tanner read a letter from the Rev. and Mrs. David A. Ellis, of Sugluk, thanking St. John's W.A. for the very excellent bale they sent to this Arctic outpost. Mr. Ellis gave an interesting report on life in the north and happily announced that the church was finally finished in spite of an acute shortage of labour due to the new mining developments. The Christmas services were well attended in spite of one of the worst winds of the year with snow banked up to the rooftops. In accordance with ancient custom a Christmas dinner for the parishioners was given under the joint auspices of the Anglican Mission and the Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay. On the 26th there was a dog team race for the men and tugs of war for the women with prizes for the winners; and also square dancing at the school in the evening.

A great deal of the Ellis' time is taken up with medical work as there is no doctor or even a nurse within 400 miles of Sugluk. Each year, however, the Department of National Health and Welfare sends in medicines and medical supplies which they help to administer. In fact, it seems as if the Rectory is almost a hospital at times.

The language difficulty must be quite a problem. The Eskimo language is really something to cope with — being as Jeandot so aptly describes it, "a series of false attempts to clear one's throat."

Elizabeth is growing by leaps and bounds and constantly keeps her parents entertained or at least on the move. In the meantime the work of the Mission goes on and Bishop Marsh was in Sugluk around the end of January.

Mrs. Villetorte then told the W.A. of the latest news received from there. Mr. Ellis and an Eskimo guide had started off for Wakeham Bay, another Parish about 165 miles away on the 11th of February. At Deception Bay they stopped for Mr. Ellis to administer penicillin to ten Eskimos who were ill there with the Asiatic Flu, picked up no doubt in one of the mining camps. These men were later flown into the hospital at Frobisher Bay.

Pushing on towards Wakeham with heavy winds, exceptionally rough ice and soft snow to contend with, Mr. Ellis and Pootoleek found that they too had this flu. They built a snow house as a protection from the below 30 degrees temperature where they stayed until their high fevers abated, then pushed on toward Wakeham. Unfortunately the Eskimo guide be-

Three Names Will Be On Ballot In Local Ridings

There will be three names on the ballot when Hastings South and Hastings-Frontenac electors go to the polls March 31st to cast their ballots in the general election.

Monday was official qualification day and Returning Officers Wm. A. Van Tassel for Hastings South, and N. L. B. Coburn for Hastings-Frontenac, received nominations at Belleville and Madoc, respectively.

In Hastings South the nominees are Lee Grills, P.C., member of the last House of Commons and candidate for re-election; Dr. D. C. McVicker, Mayor of Deseronto, Liberal, and Howard Weese, of Ameliasburg, CCF.

came lost which made the expedition a hazardous one as blizzard conditions prevailed. Ordinarily this is a trip of six days and last year Mr. Ellis and a guide covered the entire distance in four days.

When ten and then twelve days passed without news of them, there was great anxiety felt for their safety. Search parties with their dog teams went out from Wakeham and on the fourteenth day they had decided to call in the RCAF rescue plane when the Royal Mounted Police radioed that they had arrived in Wakeham in a very weakened condition, out of food for the dogs and with very little food and coal oil, their only source of heat, left. Mr. Ellis and Pootoleek, a Hudson Bay clerk and two other Eskimo guides are still quarantined at Wakeham.

Rev. C. R. Gale spoke on Christ's Prayer, the greatest in the New Testament in the 17th chapter of St. John. This is known as the High Priestly Prayer and tells us quite simply that we can turn to God reverently and humbly and tell Him with sincerity and absolute honesty all that is in our hearts. We have here the gift of vital religion and serenity of soul. Mr. Gale closed the meeting with the Benediction.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Trow and Mrs. John Villetorte.

Mrs. Tom Tanner moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Tanner for reading Mr. Ellis' interesting letter and to Mr. Gale for the inspiring thoughts brought to the minds by this beautiful prayer.

The roll call for April will be answered by reciting one of the Lord's Commandments from memory. The hostesses will be Mrs. Ken Mumby and Mrs. Burton Woodbeck.

A Message to the People of Hastings-Frontenac

By Bill Shannon

Hastings-Frontenac now has a Senator, but at the expense of LOCAL REPRESENTATION

Hastings-Frontenac has been loyal to the Conservative Party

— BUT —

Has the Conservative Party been loyal to the electors of Hastings-Frontenac?

It is one thing to find a seat for a Cabinet Minister in an emergency, but it is another to deprive a riding of "Local Representation" in a general election.

It is the opinion of many electors that this riding cannot afford the luxury of both a Senator and a Cabinet Minister.

The feeling is that the External Affairs Minister should seek election in a wealthier riding.

It is the likely opinion of many Conservatives that their Candidate should have been chosen from local Conservative ranks.

It is my privilege to know many fine and able Conservatives in this riding, many Reeves of Municipalities. These men know, and you too must know, that these capable men have been pushed aside in order to make room for one from outside the riding.

How long will we be deprived of local representation? Who directs the choice of the Candidate?

This is a riding of great area and many needs. I know these needs from association with Reeves from Hastings County Council as Reeve of Marmora.

FAMILY PIONEERED

I am qualified to give you local representation. I have worked hard for my own community, and I expect their support on March 31st. I was born here; I live with them; they are my neighbours. I think of them as the finest people on earth. They have been so kind to me and to my family in so many ways. People who live together in a riding such as ours are independent.

BILL SHANNON

I would like to hope that I could receive the same "Home-town" support from electors of the whole riding from the neighbouring townships of Marmora and Lake, where my forefathers cut their farm from the forest over 100 years ago — from Norwood and Havelock, and the townships in Peterborough County to the west.

To the people of Madoc and Bancroft and the northern townships — our histories and families have so much in common.

To those of you who live in Frontenac, and to the east and south, I admit that I don't know you now, as well as I would if I could represent you at Ottawa.

To you people, my neighbours in this riding, I say from my heart "We need an Internal Minister of 'local affairs' from amongst us — not an external affairs minister in New York, London, Paris, etc."

You need one who will be among you, visit County and local Councils, be in touch with the ever arising needs of our riding.

The people of this riding have recently shown that old Party ties are not blindly followed — that educated and informed people cast their votes after considering the aspects.

Did not the Liberals form with the Conservatives at the polls last Fall to crush a threat by a real outsider?

LOCAL MAN

You Conservative electors can do as the Liberals — vote for the man — only this time for a local man — for local representation.

You have nothing to lose by so doing. But with a Liberal win in the Federal election you will have a representative on a winning team and this riding is now starved for local representation.

As for my personal views on Government affairs let me say — first that I have no use for patronage — once a Government is elected it becomes the Government of all people and favouritism does not belong.

As for the Leaders of the two old Parties — they are both great Canadians.

No amount of election propaganda can really belittle the great stature of either Pearson or Diefenbaker.

I believe that the health of our nation's economy is based primarily on the prosperity of our farmers.

I believe in two party politics for Canada — so that a clear mandate can be given for undivided strength at Ottawa.

I am an advocate of Democratic Labour Unions, and the right of man to bargain for his labour.

I feel that special consideration of the aged and their comfort in times of need is of prime importance in this advanced era.

I feel that our ties with our Motherland should always be of first importance.

I feel that we should welcome American trade, and that we should seek their markets. America needs us and our resources, and we need their business. But we should guard against exploitation from any source.

I ask you to consider one important — yet controversial matter.

Please look at the records of the two Parties — these records show declining economies under Conservative Government at Ottawa.

The records show a high level of progress under Liberal Government.

I do not make this point in a derogatory or sarcastic manner.

I am not even going to argue that it is better Liberal Policy that makes the difference — but I repeat — the record is clear.

With Bennett — Years of depression
Unemployment

With Diefenbaker —
7 months of decline
Rising unemployment

With King —
Victory
Full employment
Progress

With St. Laurent —
Peace
Progress
Full lunch pails

With Liberal Government our country grew into great nationhood — all sections benefitted — but we here in Hastings-Frontenac received only fringe benefits.

Your ballot is important to the future of HASTINGS-FRONTENAC

CHEX Radio Now Broadcasting From 980 Kilocycles

The station switched to 980 kilocycles and increased its power output to five thousand watts at six o'clock Monday morning, March 10th, the start of the programming day.

Word was received on Friday morning from the Department of Transport in Ottawa authorizing the power increase and the change from 1430 to 980 kilocycles.

Radio station Manager Jack Weatherwax said the power increase brings a vast new listening audience for CHEX radio. Residents of an area extending from Kingston in the east to Barrie in the west and north beyond Bancroft, will be able to hear the powerful new Voice of Peterborough.

The discovery of quicksand at the transmitter site on the Keene Road was the main reason that CHEX radio missed the original target date of November 15th of last year. The swampy stuff appeared in the exact location of one of the four antenna towers. It being impossible to relocate the tower, the quicksand had to be conquered.

To accomplish this, heavy pile driving equipment had to be moved into the site and a concrete caisson was sunk to a depth of 30 feet to support the tower.

Chief Engineer Bert Crump said the swampy nature of the ground has proved to be a blessing in disguise. The soft moist ground has given CHEX radio a ground system that is next to perfect.

Prime Minister Informally Visits CWNA Directors

"I have been fully aware of the value and the importance of the weekly newspaper" Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told the semi-annual meeting of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association directors in Ottawa recently. The Prime Minister, accompanied by Allister Grossart, National Director of the Progressive Conservative Party, made an informal call at the meeting held in the Chateau Laurier.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that one of his first acts on becoming Prime Minister of Canada was to contact all departments of government to make sure the weekly newspaper received a deserving place in departmental advertising budgets. He assured the President and members of the board of his continued interest in the welfare of Canada's weekly press.

The Prime Minister was welcomed by C.W.N.A. President Cecil Day who briefly outlined the function of the weekly newspaper in Canada. President Day pointed out that the combined paid circulation of associate members is now 1,762,000 with close to 8 million readers.

The establishment of a Public Relations Department was the major item of business discussed by the C.W.N.A. Directors. It was unanimously agreed that there was a vital need for increased Public Relations on behalf of the 530 members of the association. Wm. G. James, D.S.O., was appointed the Director of Public Relations.

At the directors Annual Dinner Meeting held in the Chateau Laurier, the Honourable Wm. Hamilton, Postmaster General of Canada, was the guest speaker.

A Traveller's Note Book

A few days ago a Toronto newspaper columnist told his readers that to dig up new ideas for his column is "some chore." The difficulty is, first of all to get an idea, or something to write about. Similarly when speaking regularly to the public, one is always dreaming of finding a gold mine of ideas. However, I am going to present a few headlines, or ideas, or titles if you wish to give them the name, to the Torontonian writer. I'll buy the newspaper just to see what he makes of them.

First, I would have him write a few lines about a "Cat on a hot tin roof." Certainly it's a bit out of season, but I've got a cat and I am a little anxious about him and as the summer comes along my anxiety will increase. I'm pretty sure that he does a bit of high climbing because his claws are so sharp. He strops them, as I told you a while ago, on the trunks of trees. He would not do this if he did not want to climb up onto someone's roof. What I'm troubled about is that as the sun gets its hot up, my cat, not realizing that a tin roof can get awfully hot, will climb onto one and come home with blistered feet.

The second idea I am handing to the Torontonian is: An article on "Bottle Tops." After all, why should he not write on such an arresting subject. I am not now thinking of the bottles which someone lifted off our front veranda a while ago, with the money in at that; I'm just concerned with ordinary "common-a-garden" bottle tops. Milk bottle tops, soda water bottle tops, Coca-Cola bottle tops, Canada Dry bottle tops and such like. Now there is an idea abroad that in the case of a carbonated drink, should you not use up the whole bottle at one drink, you must bung the bottle up with an air-tight stopper. Well, that is not true, and I think the world ought to be told that it is not true. Leaving the bottle uncapped causes no greater deterioration to a fizzy drink than putting a stopper in. The only point is — don't shake the bottle. I think you will agree that any self respecting columnist should have thought of these things for himself.

Another line might be "No future in the air." He could give date and time and make of the plane that crashed. He might even try a few lines on "Vanguard." There's no end of a line there.

Or "Gone with the Wind." This of course would depend upon his gastric condition. If he is not troubled that way, he could write up quite an interesting article on "The waste lands." What the wind has done to great tracks of this continent is "nobody's business" or so it would seem.

If he is an animal lover he could put in a word or two about the terribly cruelty of dog owners, at least, some dog owner. Take the sheep dog as an instance. The poor thing has to go around with its hair in its eyes, so that they cannot possibly see where they're going. And who ever heard of a dog combing its hair? Lots of good could be done if a man was really on top of his job.

Frankly, I haven't a clue as to what I am to write about this week. Not the slightest idea unless it is one that came to me on Sunday. At least, it did not exactly come to me, I ran over it and it almost killed me. You may, if you care for such things, go for a good "Rock and Roll" over the Old Town Line. I've seen some roads in my time, but never have I seen a road like The Old Town Line. It's a lovely! It's a sink!! It's a disgrace!!! About the only thing you can do if you wish to go from Town to Carmel, is, take a helicopter; go to Trenton and swim up stream; go to Campbellford and hire a boat or stay at home.

Preachers are not always as slow in the "Up take" as some would have you believe. The Rev. Dr. Parkes Cadman, of New York City, was once asked the question: "Dr Cadman, would it be possible for me to lead a good Christian life in New York City on $20.00 a week?" To which Dr. Cadman replied: "My boy, that is about all you could do."

CLEVELAND LAY OFF!

In 1956 the Cleveland, Ohio, headquarters of the Firemen's Union thumbed its nose at the findings of a Canadian Conciliation Board which said firemen are not needed on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service. They announced a strike, without even giving rank-and-file firemen (who were to keep their employment with no loss of pay) a chance to vote.

For nine days they got away with it. They had this country in the grip of a serious strike. Small towns, farmers, shippers — and especially Maritimers — were hurt plenty even in nine days. Thousands were thrown out of work in all sorts of different industries which depend on railroads for supplies. Thus the leaders of this small union were able to defy a conciliation board and inflict punishment of us all. Now they have gone further.

They have now thumbed their nose at parliament. To end the strike, parliament — all parties — set up a Royal Commission of such important judges that everyone had full confidence in them. The big Canadian Labor Congress praised the thoroughness of the Commission and the fair way they handled the hearings and investigated every phase of the controversy.

That Commission ruled against the firemen. They have said clearly that firemen are not needed, that there is no useful work for them to do. And they also said that the railroad's offer to protect all the firemen in their employment is a very just and reasonable offer.

Has the Firemen's Union accepted these findings? No — to the dismay of everyone, they have refused to negotiate. They stubbornly refuse to negotiate as Parliament requested them to do. By this action, they have defied the public, the leaders of all political parties, and common sense itself.

Will they get away with it again? Will we have a strike order from Cleveland one of these days that will throw thousands of Canadians out of work and injure countless people who already have enough problems to face?

I don't think they will get away with it. Every town council, every farm organization, and even leaders of more responsible labour organizations will be outraged by their attitude. If not, then Canadian citizens are meeker than I think they are, and never again will they have any right to complain about the high cost of transportation.

Help Crippled Children By Buying Easter Seals

During the past year leading physicians and surgeons from hospitals that specialize in orthopaedic services attended numerous clinics held at strategic locations throughout Ontario for the benefit of crippled youngsters. In every case the doctors were volunteers who contributed their time, skill and advice.

The out-clinic service provided by the far flung facilities of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children has developed under the closely related co-operation between the Society and the 220 service clubs — including the Rotary Club of Stirling — which each year conduct the Easter Seal Campaign to finance assistance to help crippled children. In addition to help finance the treatment of crippled children from their communities, the service clubs help with the clinics by transporting youngsters and helping to provide accommodation for those that cannot return home immediately.

The Society and the service clubs organize the clinics under a medical committee which enrolls the volunteer specialists. The latter include literally every top specialist in the fields of medicine and surgery which are necessary to the children's betterment. These doctors come from Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and other cities located near the clinic centre.

Plans for a clinic are laid well in advance. Through local officers of health, public health nurses and local doctors, the Society's field nurses locate and visit crippled children, report their needs and plan their attendance at clinics. On a planned day, for instance, children from hundreds of miles around a community such as Kirkland Lake will gather there. To meet them will be specialists in orthopaedic surgery and other branches of medicine who, together with local doctors, diagnose their conditions and prescribe treatment. If the latter can be provided locally, the local doctor then supervises it; if treatment is required in a big city hospital, usually the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, arrangements are made for transportation and hospitalization by the Society.

Over the years thousands of children have attended such clinics, have received treatment and have benefited from the follow-up programme provided by the Society's nursing services. A score of specially trained nurses approved by special act of the Ontario legislature follow up every case, teach the mother how to carry on the therapy prescribed by the doctors and see that anything required such as braces or crutches are provided for the children.

For the 1958 Easter Seal Campaign, which is held from March 6th to April 6th, the Ontario Society needs $750,000 to carry on this and other services.

What Others Say I

SMALLER CARS

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)
Main reasons why an increasing number of car buyers prefer foreign-made products is that they cost less, are much cheaper to operate, are easier to handle in heavy traffic and in the event of a smash-up a person doesn't have to refinance the mortgage on his home to effect repairs.

It could be that a retreat is just around the corner from the bigger, swankier and more gadget-equipped cars of the past decade.

A DISGRACE TO CANADA

(An editorial in the Halifax Chronicle-Herald)
A dispatch from Montreal reports that the Canadian Pacific Railway sent out a call for 500 men to shovel snow in its yards in that city a few days ago and got only twenty-nine.

This, when there are supposed to be 520,000 unemployed in the country by the latest Dominion Bureau of Statistics calculations, is hard to figure. Is it because all the jobless in Montreal — and that number was in the tens of thousands — had suddenly become employed? Or did they all have heart conditions and were afraid of over-exertion?

We think not. It is, instead, one of the more disgraceful results of the unemployment insurance programme that we have in this country. Even the provision inserted in the act a year or so ago permitting those getting benefits to earn a little extra on the side without becoming disqualified (a maximum of $13 a week for married men drawing $30 a week and for single men drawing $23) apparently has not been as effective in discouraging job refusing as had been expected would be the case.

Too many workers in this country adopt the attitude that, as long as they can get enough to provide food and shelter out of this Government-operated fund, why should they work? The Unemployment Insurance Act was welcomed by all Canadians, when it was passed by Parliament, as a measure that would fairly well prevent the recurrence of the spectacle of breadlines in this country that we had in the thirties. But it was never intended to be a subsidy for laziness which, many now take it to be.

The act provides that insured persons disqualify themselves from receiving benefits if they refuse "suitable" jobs offered to them, but that word "suitable" is what makes it possible to have a shortage of jobs and a shortage of people to fill jobs at the same time. Under the act, "suitable" employment means work of a type in which the insured person is usually engaged which pays the same level of wages and, in many cases, which is available in the same locality. It is only after what is described as a "reasonable period" of unemployment — which may mean anything — that a worker can be forced to accept a different type of work.

Until Parliament sees fit to be much stiffer in its interpretation of "suitable" and to use a more specific term than "reasonable," we can expect to continue having what was reported from Montreal a few days ago. A political party which stopped talking nonsense about who is to blame for unemployment and produced a better plan for fitting jobless into the job vacancies that exist, likely would find a lot of new support in the current election campaign.

NOT PARTICULAR

A town character not noted for his veracity was subpoenaed to testify in an auto accident case. Before taking the stand, he was asked the usual question: "Do you promise to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"I'm not in the habit of doing that, Your Honour," he replied, "but I'm willing to try anything once."

The cost of a pedestrian claiming the right of way in traffic can be high — serious injury, or death.

Shaving was originally a protective measure since long beards were easy for opponents in combat to seize.

FAVOUR

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour . . . she is buying goods for which she will pay cash . . . purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries . . . the banker deals in credit. And, as the making of loans is the principal way by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods . . . that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit to you and to his institution.

MARKETING SERVICE FEE OF HOG PRODUCERS IS CHANGED

Revision of the marketing service fee of the Ontario Hog Producers' Marketing Board was announced on Wednesday, March 12th, by chairman Eldred Aiken. The action was taken by the Marketing Board at a regular meeting of its directors held in Toronto on Tuesday of last week.

The revised marketing service fee, henceforth, will be 40 cents per hog. Previously the Board levied two fees, a 24 cent service fee per hog and a pro-rating fee of 20 cents per statement. The two-fee system resulted in a variable charge to Ontario hog producers ranging from 24 to 44 cents per hog depending on the size of each shipment.

This action of the Marketing Board was taken following a resolution which was passed at the Marketing Board's annual meeting held in Toronto March 3rd and 4th of this year. The resolution directed the Marketing Board to revise and simplify its marketing service fee so that it would adequately cover costs of maintaining the present marketing programme, and of extending the directional programme to the remainder of the Province.

EFFECT OF FOLIAGE SPRAYS OF FERTILIZERS ON THE YIELD OF CORN AND TOMATOES

Whether or not applications of fertilizers to the foliage of canning crops results in increased yields has been studied over a four-year period at the Horticultural Sub-station, at Smithfield, Ont. In this study the crops were sprayed with two materials either alone or in combination with soil fertilizer applications on soils considered to be slightly above average in fertility level.

During the first three years of the trial with the tomato crop it was found that any beneficial effects due to the sprays were confined to the yield of ripe fruit obtained before September 5th. While two sprays of 7-14-7 at 2½ gallons per acre three weeks after transplanting and at the time of the last cultivation increased average early yields over a three year period, this increase was only significant when the normal soil application of fertilizer was not applied. Only in 1955, a year of very high temperatures and drought conditions, did the sprays appear to increase early yields over those obtained with normal soil applications of fertilizers.

With the corn crop very much the same result was obtained. Only under the drought conditions experienced in 1955 was there any indication of a true increase in yield due to the application of these foliage nutrients.

Our results indicated that time of application may have an important bearing on the effectiveness of the applied nutrients. In 1957 a trial was set out to find if possible the effect of time of application on yield. These results indicated that there was a rather narrow range of time during which applications of major nutrients to the foliage would cause an increase in yield. Foliage sprays applied earlier and later than this narrow range apparently had no effect in 1957 even though previous experience would indicate that such a beneficial effect might be expected under the adverse climatic conditions of July and August of 1957.

In summarizing these studies it might be stated that during seasons in which the crop was grown under adverse conditions resulting from drought, low temperatures, inadequate fertilization, etc., some benefit might be derived from foliage sprays.

This benefit would be found only if the sprays were applied often enough to supply significant amounts of plant food to the crop and if applied during that narrow range time when the crop most needed the additional plant food. Our results to date, however, do not warrant recommending the use of these materials as a replacement for adequate soil applications of fertilizer. Their use must still be considered as an emergency supplement to be used to bring the plant through an adverse set of conditions. This is particularly true when one considers that these materials are much more costly on the basis of a pound of plant food than are the normal fertilizers applied to the soil.

CONSERVATION NEWS

WINTER ICE FISHING

The popular winter sport, "Ice Fishing" has retained its popularity in spite of poor ice conditions with heavy snow and slush on the ice surface. Automobile travel on lakes this year is almost nil, but this has not curtailed winter angling to any great degree.

Fishermen have succeeded in getting their ice huts out to their favourite spot by use of hand sleighs, etc.

Fishing for lake trout in the opening week starting March 1st has been good on some lakes while on others fishing has only been fair. In the Bancroft area, anglers on the average spent 5 man hours fishing for each lake trout caught.

Pickering fishermen on the Bay of Quinte in the Trenton area report poor fishing this year. Since Trenton is situated near the western end of the Bay of Quinte it is possible that the pickering have not moved into the extreme end of the Bay as yet. Ice conditions on the Bay are also poor.

Because of the hazardous ice conditions existent throughout the whole of the District, anglers are again reminded to take early action in removing their huts before it is too late. Ice huts left to float in open water are a menace to boat traffic and those that sink in shallow water are also a threat to outboard motors.

THE FOOD BASKET

MENU MAGIC WITH MACARONI

Whether you are fasting or feasting you can make marvellous meals from macaroni and other popular members of the pasta family such as spaghetti and noodles. These foods with their bland flavour form a happy partnership in casserole dishes with eggs, fish, vegetables, poultry or meat. They can also fulfill a gourmet's dream when cooked alone and served with a tangy sauce liberally sprinkled with your favourite cheese.

Macaroni foods are made from a stiff dough of wheat flour and water. They are given a great variety of shapes ranging from slim rods through sea shells to alphabets. Some have added flavours. Each type has a different cooking time. Be sure to read the label on the package, especially the cooking directions as they are your most accurate guide. When macaroni foods are ideally cooked they are tender — yet retain their firmness or "bite." So time them carefully and do not overcook. Users of these foods frequently become collectors of recipes containing them. Below is a recipe to add to, or start you on a collection of easy to prepare, budget-wise dishes. And, in case you don't already know, macaroni, spaghetti and noodles almost always may be used interchangeably in recipes.

Macaroni, Cheese

And Tomato Casserole

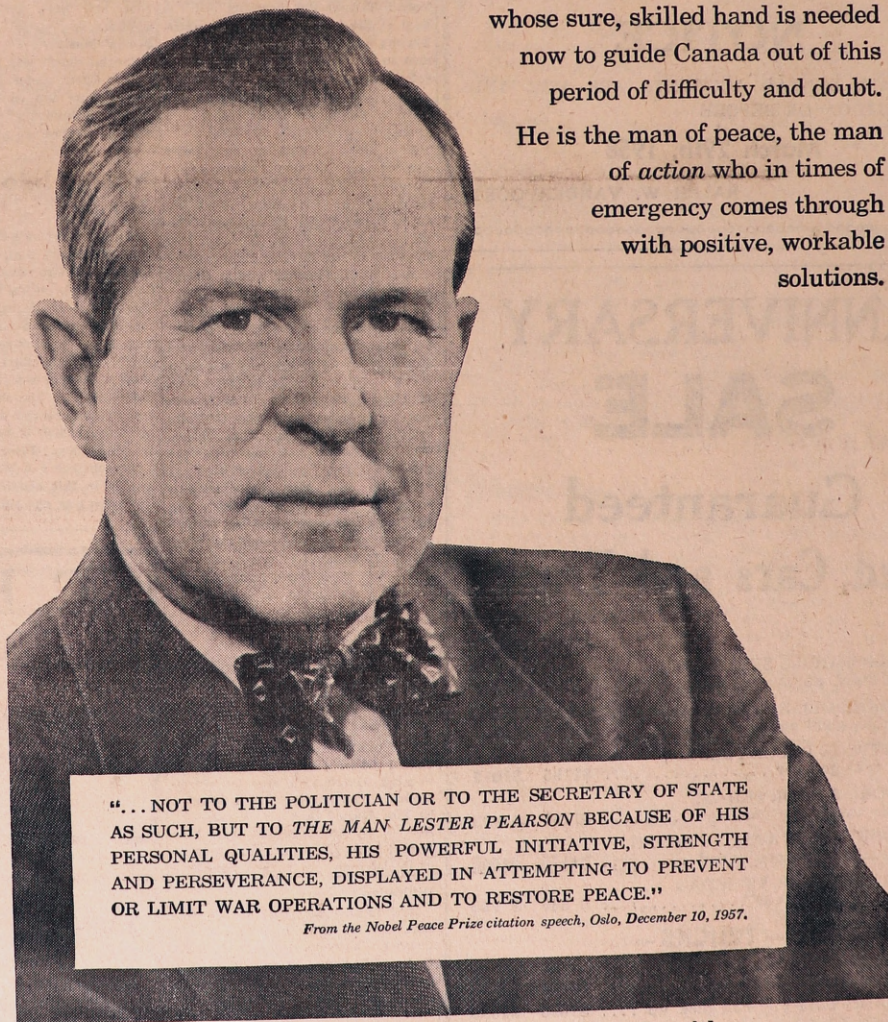

4 ounces macaroni, broken in 1" pieces (2 cups)
1½ cups grated Cheddar cheese
1 20-ounce can tomatoes (2½ cups)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons grated Cheddar cheese
3 tablespoons buttered dry bread crumbs
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 8 to 10 minutes, or according to directions on package. Drain well. Return to pan and stir in the cheese, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Turn into a greased two-quart casserole. Sprinkle with grated cheese and top with bread crumbs. Bake in a slow oven (300 degs. F.) about 40 minutes. Six servings.

STIRLING CENTENNIAL, AUG. 3rd to 6th, 1958

DO YOU KNOW THAT ...

Since 1850 Stirling has been honoured by having six Reeves elected Wardens of Hastings County: Edward Fidler, 1850; Dr. G. H. Boulter, 1867; Dr. G. W. Faulkner, 1884; W. S. Martin, 1895; Wm. R. Mather, 1910; Wm. C. West, 1936.

The earliest by-laws of the Village, many of which have automatically become out-moded, give evidence of conditions in pioneer days. To stimulate interest in the book which has been prepared through the efforts of many public spirited citizens, we quote excerpts from some of these original rules and a few observations on them.

By-law No. 4, dealing with the conduct of Council, asserts that all Councillors must remain seated until the Reeve has risen from his chair. By-law No. 70, dated August 1st, 1877, allows the poundkeeper "the sum of 30c per day for every horse, ox, bull, stag, cow, heifer or steer in the pound."

On July 8th, 1878, it became unlawful to bury the dead within the corporation limits of the Village.

On April 1st, 1889, the first polling sub-division were established in the Village.

By-law No. 142, 1893, places a restraint on "livestock running at large within the Corporation."

On April 17th, 1896, By-law No. 158 gave permission to the Stirling Electric Light Company "to erect and maintain poles and to string wire along the public streets."

Mt. Pleasant W.M.S.

Mrs. Douglass Campbell was hostess for the Woman's Missionary meeting on Wednesday, March 12th with twenty members and two visitors in attendance.

Mrs. Herbert Smith read a message on "One Faith and One Hope." All repeated "The Apostle's Creed" in unison and Mrs. Ernest Spencer offered prayer. Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave her report and Mrs. Carleton Potts reported one new life member, fifteen annual fees to date and February money $16.95. The Community Friendship calls were recorded. The Mission Band is planning a bake sale and the supply department a quilting.

The Stewardship Secretary gave a message on "The use and development of talents" and read a poem. The Citizenship Secretary brought a message from the leaflet, "What doth the Lord Require of us?"

Mrs. Frank Jeffs read a letter from the Presbyterian Periodical Secretary urging that more use be made of the Missionary Monthly at the meetings. The Easter meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ross Jeffs. Thanks was expressed for hospitality, also to conveners of programme and refreshments.

The Past President gathered the offering which was dedicated with a hymn.

Mrs. John Mulheron synopsized chapter six, "Meeting Today's Crisis Together." The year 1959 will be the centenary of Protestant work in Japan. The Rural Evangelism Committee aim to found five hundred churches in the farming communities.

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher was in charge of the devotional based on "Unity, for the Honour of the Gospel" as outlined in "Thine is the Glory" leaflet. All sang "Faith of our Fathers" and Mrs. Stanley Williams read a prayer which had been written in 1824. Mrs. M. Wrightman read the Bible Lesson and these ladies with Mrs. C. Potts assisted with the discussion period. The meditation was based on the words of Paul to his Church at Philippi. Mrs. Ross Jeffs read a poem "As On Our Way We Go." The service closed with "Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken" and prayer by Mrs. J. Holmes.

At the close refreshments were served.

Special Services Held At Beulah United Church

A special service held in Beulah United Church, Ivanhoe, on Sunday evening, March 16th, was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Harold Stobart, assisted by Rev. J. F. Lane, Madoc, and Rev. Harold Lackey, of Claremont, a former minister on the Ivanhoe Charge.

Dedication

Rev. Lackey dedicated a baptismal font, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Creaser, Wyevalle, to the glory of God. Following the dedication the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Creaser, Dwight Allan, was baptized.

Rev. H. Lackey delivered a timely message the subject of which was "The Guidance of God." I believe for every Christian God has a purpose. He is working His purpose out and will guide us along the way. You will find this teaching 'all through the Bible. The Lord is my Shepherd, the Lord is my Guide and Thou will guide me by Thy Counsel.

God not only guides but sustains us. The early Church knew great tribulation, yet God was its strength. God sustains us in tribulation and sickness. "Greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world."

God does not always answer prayers as we would like. Children of God may be often perplexed and persecuted but never forsaken or alone.

God sustains us in loneliness and temptation. Success and happiness should not be the goal of those seeking the will of God.

Following the message Rev. Lane spoke briefly, stating he had enjoyed the fellowship of the day, having attended services at Salem, Bethesda and Fuller and throughout the day when 65 members were received into the Church following Communicant and Catechism Classes conducted by Rev. H. Stobart during the Lenten Season.

Number Received Into The Church

Rev. Lane then conducted a solemn and impressive service when the following were received into the Church: David McMaster, Larry McMaster, Frances Prest, Judy Rollins, Elaine Wickens, Jack Wood, Paul Reid, Evelyn Prest, Judy Wood, Jean Benson, Carlyle Rollins, Allan Rollins, Karen Bray, Barry Bray and Marjorie Stephens.

Mr. Stanley Prest, a member of the Session, presented each new member with a book. The Session then gave the right hand of fellowship to those who had been received into the Church.

Special Music

Special music was provided by the Junior Choir under the direction of the organist and choir leader included "Little Sunbeam," "O Worship the King" and "Fairest Lord Jesus."

What Others Say

DUTY OF A CONSTABLE

(Brockville Recorder and Times)
Probably the most maligned profession is the police force. It is readily accepted that they are there for the public's protection, but just let them issue a parking ticket and the average person is ready to hit the roof.

Yet parking tickets are only issued after a law infraction. The police force doesn't make the laws — they only enforce them.

139th Anniversary of Oddfellowship Commemorated By Stirling Lodge

Jack Chard Shows Pictures of England and Continent
— Programme Is Enjoyed

In commemoration of the 139th anniversary of the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows on this continent, the officers and members of Stirling Lodge No. 239, entertained their ladies and friends last Friday night at their annual "Thos. Wilsey" entertainment. Some two hundred and fifty were in attendance at the I.O.O.F. Hall on Charlotte St. and enjoyed a programme, followed by refreshments and dancing.

Robert Hulin, Noble Grand, acted as master of ceremonies and welcomed the large gathering on behalf of the officers and members.

Jack Chard, of Stirling, showed pictures taken in England and the continent during the summer of 1957 and those present thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful scenery and points of interest.

Readings were given by Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Stirling, and Mrs. George Ingram, of Campbellford; and Miss Linda Anne Morrow and Dennis Heasman, pupils of River Valley Public School, repeated their addresses given in the South Hastings oratorical contest. Vocal solos were given by Miss Donna Carlisle, accompanied by Mrs. P. Conley, Mrs. Glenn Brooks and Mr. Wm. Reynolds, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Morrow, and a vocal duet by Misses Shirley and Joan Chisholm. Maria Heasman contributed a tap dance number accompanied by Mrs. Phil Conley on the piano; and Wm. New Phone Book

The latest edition of the catalogue of telephone numbers is on its way to telephone subscribers in Stirling and the surrounding territory. G. W. Proctor, Bell Telephone manager for this region, announced this week.

"There are many new and changed listings in the 1958 telephone directory and in order to avoid errors and unnecessary calls to information, telephone users should discard last year's issue and begin using the new one as soon as it reaches them," the manager stated.

One particular significant change is the inclusion in the new book of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of customers served by the Brighton exchange. Formerly, these were listed in the Oshawa-Cobourg directory but beginning April 1st the exchange will come under the supervision of the manager for Trenton and surrounding territory.

According to Mr. Proctor, a good way to avoid confusion is for each customer to bring his Blue Book of Telephone Numbers up to date with the new directory.

Distribution of the 1958 telephone book in Stirling will initially amount to 1,185 copies. Total distribution throughout the area served by the directory will reach 31,560, an increase of 2,000 copies over last year's total.

Freight Jumps Tracks — Rips Two Miles of Ties

A loose front wheel on the front axle of the leading trucks on a freight car jumped the rails on a curve on the CNR line about four miles east of Campbellford about 3.30 Sunday morning, tearing up almost two miles of ties, before the train was stopped.

Section men from Campbellford and Stirling, working under Roadmaster A. Martin, of Peterborough, began replacing a few dozen ties, just enough to make the track passable on Sunday morning. Work crews are now engaged in the task of replacing approximately 2,000 ties and repairing several hundred damaged ones, over the two mile stretch of track.

The eastbound freight, made up of 63 cars, continued on to Belleville after work crews put the derailed car back on the rails. There were no injuries.

Bowling Clubs Reorganized

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown Head the Respective Executives — Delegates Named

A joint meeting of the Stirling Ladies' and Men's Lawn Bowling Clubs was held in the Council Chambers on Monday night, with a good attendance.

Ray Mallory presided over the joint meeting and matters of prime importance to both clubs were discussed. Mr. Mallory stated interest had waned in the men's club and membership had dropped to a point where he wondered if the Club could carry on. The change in the weekly holiday in the Village to Monday made it practically impossible to arrange tournaments on suitable dates for the local bowlers. However the ladies' club was thriving and he felt they could carry on. The consensus of the meeting was that the men's club should reorganize and with the co-operation of both clubs in arranging activities a successful year could be expected.

Wm. Brown New President

In the election of officers for the Men's Club Wm. Brown was chosen President; Ashley Brooks, Vice-President; F. R. Mallory, Secretary, and H. R. Tompkins, Treasurer.

The President and Secretary were appointed delegates to the District meeting in Belleville on Wednesday night.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

Advertisements in daily newspapers are being used in India to publish portions of the Bible in serial form. It has been reported by the Bible Society in India and Ceylon. Selections such as the Sermon on the Mount have been printed in instalments through subscriptions given for this purpose by Indian Christians, creating wide interest in the Bible.

With the support of the British and Foreign Bible Society close to a million copies of Scripture were circulated in India last year, but this does not begin to meet the demand that comes from a population of 400 million people. In fact, the circulation of the Bible is falling tragically behind the annual increase in population.

Newspaper advertising is being tried as an experiment in reaching a wider reading public.

Fine Opportunity For Canadians Visiting Britain

Mrs. Edwin Warren of the I.O.D.E. told us this week of an interesting organization in Britain which anyone planning travel there would do well to know about.

The organization is "The Victoria League" which is dedicated to encourage friendship between peoples of the Commonwealth and Empire by extending hospitality to visitors from overseas. As a powerful influence in Empire relations, this society has a membership of 32,500.

The Victoria League has branches all over the Commonwealth and in Canada it is affiliated with the I.O.D.E. Any Canadian may apply to the I.O.D.E. for introduction to the Victoria League. On presentation of a card to any branch of the League, the visiting Canadian will receive a friendly welcome and may enjoy many and varied types of hospitality, such as visits to houses of historic interest, invitations to plays and concerts and meeting in their own homes with Commonwealth people. This hospitality may be enjoyed by the Canadian visitor for six months without paying a membership fee to the League. Hotel accommodations and other conveniences may also be secured through the organization.

Mrs. Warren is very anxious that any local person who is planning a trip to Britain feel free to take advantage of this opportunity for post-able further enjoyment of their trip. By getting in touch with her you can arrange for an introduction card to the Victoria League.

BIRD'S FOOD MARKET

Stirling, Ontario,
Tuesday, March 25th, 1958

Dear Customer:

Due to the shortage of help and the high cost of doing business we are forced to discontinue phone orders after Monday, March 31st, 1958.

It is now possible to reduce our prices to the level of the highly competitive Toronto Cash-and-Carry Supermarkets through having greatly lowered our cost of operation under this programme.

Telephone orders are services which cost a great deal to maintain and which must reflect in higher prices to consumers. These have now been discontinued in our market. In following our new policy of pricing to compete with the largest Chain Food Markets, our prices have all been reduced to Cash-and-Carry Supermarket level. Delivery service, however, will be available free of charge on orders $5.00 and over.

We want you to visit us and notice particularly the money-saving prices on every item in our store. Compare them with other prices and you will see quickly the savings we are passing on to you through this new plan.

Your patronage as a charge customer has been very much appreciated. We sincerely hope that we may continue to have the pleasure of serving you on our new basis and will be happy to make any arrangement suitable to you for settlement of the balance outstanding in your account.

Watch for our regular Thursday advertising, window bills and handbills for food highlights and extra value features.

Yours sincerely,

A Traveller's Note Book

A not inappropriate subject that is being brought before the public today is "The Free Blood Transfusion Service." In this, Belleville and our own district is making a really splendid effort.

The need is 1,500 units to be put into the "bank." In less than a month some 350 offerings of blood have been given. The ages of those fit to give are those between 18 years and 65 and all donors are asked to make an appointment for their giving at Belleville Hospital, Tuesdays from 6.30 p.m. to 9.00 p.m.

The hospitals may now make a service charge of $5.00 for a blood transfusion, but this will be covered in most cases by Blue Cross or whatever society the patient is covered by. Donors are asked to make their appointments early.

Probably because the two elections have run so closely together many of us are quite sick of hearing about it. It is being overdone.

A lady recently visited a florist in Belleville to purchase flowers for the sick. She gave her order. She then, not having her glasses on, read a notice displayed in the store wrongly. To her, it read: "Pearson to Pearson." She was shocked into activity and was about to cancel her order, when putting her glasses on she saw that the notice really said: "Person to Person."

Similarly, to show how this thing has taken possession of people, a friend visiting a neighbour happened to mention "John The Evangelist." The neighbour thought he meant Diefenbaker and was rather annoyed. Easter

In this time of tension between Russia and the West, it is worth noting that some of the greatest Christian thinkers of the 19th and 20th century were Russians. One of the greatest was Dostoevsky. No one penetrated more deeply into the problem of human problems than did he. Vladimir Soloviev, the greatest of the Russian philosophers had a strong belief in Russia's spiritual mission. Reflecting upon this, one would hope and pray, since we do believe in the power and the love of God, that within Russia there may come to life again, that there may be a real resurrection of true religion. But not only Russia — here, and everywhere.

The struggle between good and evil is not confined to one society or one country, or even to one soul, it is a fact of human existence; as present here as in Russia, China, Britain or the U.S.A. and the Kingdom of God is the kingdom of righteousness triumphing through the resurrection in which life is real, actual and good. The real victory over evil is the Resurrection, without it there is no Kingdom of God on this earth.

It would seem not unfair to say that, in those countries where the Cross, the blood of Christ has been exalted unduly above the Easter Resurrection message, death and not life, the cross for man and not the splendour of Christ has been the common lot and Communism has taken deepest root. It is strange but true in Protestant lands, communism has not a chance.

PHAROS

If You Drive

(With acknowledgement to everyone who has used the "if" approach before.)

If you drive poorly, you will dislike it. If you drive well, you will enjoy it.

If you work at good driving, you will become a good driver.

If you make friends while driving, you will be interesting and admired.

If you bully your way through traffic, you will be despised. If you act like a human being, you will be liked and respected.

If you roll at other drivers, you will be hated.

If you spurn good driving practices, wise drivers will spurn you.

If you seek good driving advice, other drivers will seek yours.

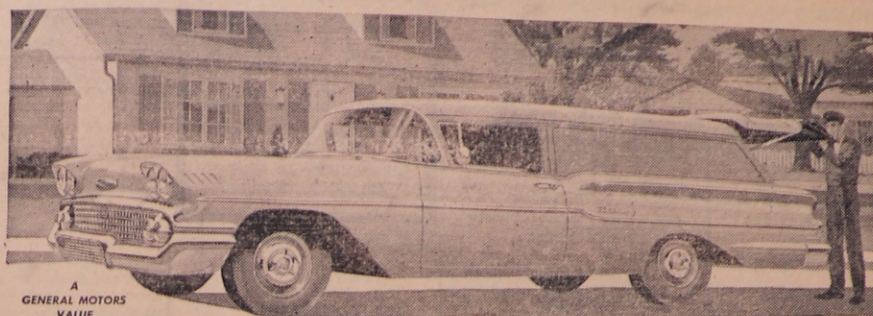

If you drive alertly, you will avoid and prevent accidents.

If you drive inattentively, you are bound to cause one.

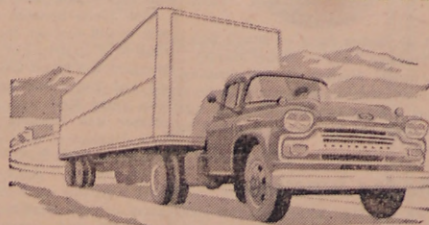

If you spend your driving time, seeing, perceiving and adjusting your passage to prevailing conditions, you will be a good driver.

Martha Says

If we had been allowed to save one third of the money we paid in taxes during the last five years, we would now be in a position to stand a considerable period of unemployment without having to accept help of any kind.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

TO LOVE GOD

"You must love God," I was told, as a boy, both at church and at home. Now a boy is an independent creature. You can make him mow lawns, chop wood and empty the ashes; but you can't make him love God by ordering him. And one day I rebelled.

"Now Dad, 'I said, 'that's nuts. I can't just get up in the morning and suddenly love God. You can't make yourself love anybody. You do or you don't — and that's it.' For these rebellious words I expected a fatherly blast.

It didn't come. My Dad frowned, pulled at his moustache, shook his head. Then, with a sigh, he said, "I know." That was all he said, at that moment and I was surprised and strangely disappointed.

But my Dad was a smart man, and he had handled my outburst in the best possible way, with that sigh and that acceptance of the fact. He left me free to think about the love of God as a problem of my own.

It took me a long, long time to solve it, too. But there has always been in the human heart a hunger for support and even a cocky young fellow knows that he is not, in himself, powerful enough to push the universe around. Or he soon learns to know it, and to realize that like all the rest of mankind he is a child of providence.

Some of us are dull enough to fight against this knowledge far too long, trying in vain to make the universe spin our particular way. Others, blessed with more wisdom and humility, accept the fact that there is a power greater than themselves, a power always available to them even when all other sources of inspiration fail.

These are the men and women who face adversity with courage, who know the joy of optimism and hope, who understand that they never really need to stand alone. They are untouched by the panic that bothers others at every twist and turn of events. They have a sureness, a steadiness, a sense of destiny in which they have tranquil faith. They enter the universe humbly, they leave it majestically, unafraid and peaceful.

Those who lack this faith in God try desperately to remake the world in their own image, shaping it to their own heart's desire. Often they mean well. If their eyes were opened to the harm they do, they would be shocked and repentant. They are the do-gooders who in their innocent egotism would play God, instead of loving Him.

No one can force us to love God. But good parents and a relentless universe can teach us.

When You Vote Use The Pencil Provided At Poll

Voters in next Monday's Dominion Election must use a black pencil when marking their ballots.

"That is why," an electoral office official said, "black pencils are provided in the polling booths. If ballots are marked in ball point, fountain pen, colored ink or colored pencil they are set aside. They don't count."

Film Outlines Hospital Insurance For Ontario

Because of the great interest on the part of the people of Ontario in the provincial hospital insurance plan the Ontario Hospital Services Commission is producing a 25 minute film (16 m.m. black and white) entitled "Hospital Insurance for Ontario," which will be available on free loan to groups such as church groups, farm groups, service clubs, business and professional groups and any other such organization located in Ontario. The film being produced by Meridian Films Limited, of Toronto, will be available to these groups on and after April 1st, 1958, following a short period during which it will be reserved for television use. Plans are also being made for radio transcription of the sound portion of the film.

Charles Templeton, noted television and radio personality, appears in the film relating the important details of the plan and he also conducts an interview with two of the Commissioners — Dr. John B. Neilson, Director of Hospital Services and Mr. David W. Ogilvie, Director of Hospital Insurance.

Any organization may obtain the use of the film by writing to the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, Parliament Buildings, Queen's Park, Toronto, stating the preferred and alternative dates it is desired, also the correct mailing address.

The Ontario Hospital Services Commission insurance program will come into operation on January 1st, 1959. This plan will offer advantages to our people in every walk of life. Everyone who is a resident of Ontario, irrespective of age, pre-existing or existing condition of health, disability or occupation, may enrol in the plan and share its benefits. It will provide protection for short-stay illnesses in hospitals as well as prolonged illnesses and its coverage will be available to patients in approved general hospitals, hospitals for convalescents and the chronically ill, mental hospitals and sanatoria for consumptives.

James Hickey, Marmora, Dies In Car Accident

A 22-year-old Marmora youth, James Hickey, was killed Friday night in Kingston when the car he was driving went out of control and smashed into a tree.

One of three passengers in the Hickey car is in critical condition in a Kingston Hospital.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight in Kingston when the four Queen's University students, all members of the graduating class, were returning home from a class dinner.

Mr. Hickey, a former mechanical engineering student at Queen's University, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Hickey, of Marmora. He was a member of St. Paul's Anglican Church.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Tom Lewis, of Detroit, Mich., and Phyllis at home; and a grandmother, Mrs. Allegra Hickey.

Safety In The Home

Neglect, carelessness, and improper use and handling of modern labor-saving appliances cause many accidents in the home.

The Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture makes the following suggestions: Don't leave electric irons unattended; don't handle appliances or cords while in contact with water; don't replace fuses while standing on a wet floor unless you first pull the main switch; don't place radiant heaters too close to inflammable material and don't attempt to make electrical repairs yourself.

Fire hazards include petroleum-type cleaners, overheated stoves or furnaces, rubbish, and neglected chimneys. Never use kerosene or gasoline to "quicken" a fire; explosions and burns may result. Open fireplaces should be shielded by a metal screen to protect rugs from flying sparks.

Dozens of home safety hints are given in Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 237, "Safety in the Home," obtainable by residents of Ontario at the office of the Agricultural Representative.

TRAINING OF FORESTERS

The management of Canada's forest domain is now largely entrusted to professional Foresters, a branch of engineering requiring four to five years training. The faculty of forestry at the University of Toronto was established 50 years ago. Subsequently, similar courses were organized at the Universities of New Brunswick, British Columbia and at Laval University, Quebec.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

NEW FEDERAL RESEARCH LABORATORY
AT GUELPH

Livestock insect investigation work in Eastern Canada received added impetus recently with the completion and occupancy of a new Canada Department of Agriculture entomology research laboratory at Guelph, Ontario. Mr. D. G. Peterson is Officer-in-Charge of this research center.

The new research establishment was erected at a site provided on the campus of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. Since 1954, livestock insect research was carried on in a laboratory established in temporary quarters on the research farm at the Ontario Agricultural College. The purpose of this work is primarily for the comprehensive study of insects affecting animals and man in Eastern Canada and the development of improved control measures.

An open house was held at the new laboratory on the afternoons and evenings of March 25th and 26th, to provide the public with an opportunity to view the laboratory and its facilities and to see some of the research work in progress.

"COCKLE" IS EXCLUDED FROM TOP GRADE SEED

Seed drill surveys, five years apart, indicate that farmers in southern Ontario are sowing better and cleaner seed, as mentioned by LeRoy Brown, of Lindsay, Agricultural Representative for Victoria County.

The survey a few years ago showed that 43 percent of all cereal seed sown was in the rejected class. In eleven Counties of southern Ontario last year, the grades were similar to those of previous surveys, but there was an improvement in the lower grades used. The 1957 survey showed that 55 percent of all grain sown was No. 1 grade, with 20 percent being in the rejected class.

"This is much better than the 43 percent figure for 1952. The survey showed also that more than 20 percent of the farmers who were visited had no idea of the grade of seed they were sowing. With the popularity of new varieties of oats and barley, there should be a marked improvement in the quality of seed used on many farms."

"In the purchase of forage crop seeds it is even more essential that the quality and grade of seed purchased be considered carefully. When a registered No. 1 sample of alfalfa or red clover is bought, no primary noxious weed seeds are permitted, and the germination should be 90 percent for alfalfa and 80 percent for red clover. The same regulations apply to registered No. 1 timothy.

Weeds in Low Grades

"A commercial No. 3 Alfalfa, red clover or timothy may contain up to 300 weed seeds per ounce, and have a germination figure of only 60 percent.

"If forage crop seeds of a commercial No. 3 quality are used, and the mixture is sown at the rate of 20 lbs. per acre, the number of weed seeds being sown in this mixture could be as high as 100,000 per acre.

"These figures emphasize the necessity of using only top quality seeds. This is of utmost importance. Registered No. 1 oats contain no primary and no secondary weed seeds, and the germination percentage shall be 85 percent or better. On the other hand, a commercial No. 3 oats may contain 100 weed seeds per pound, and may have a germination of only 65 percent.

"In sample of cereal seeds below No. 3 commercial, the number of weed seeds per pound may be 300 or more, which indicates that a farmer sowing a rejected sample of cereal seed will be sowing between 25,000 and 50,000 weed seeds per acre."

Right Sowing Time

Yields can be increased from 50 to 60 percent above the average if these factors get full attention: (1) quality of seed of the right adapted variety; (2) fertile soil and adequate fertilization; (3) immediate seed bed preparation for a good start; (4) a preceding crop which best prepares the soil for grain growth. And sowing at the right time; (6) adequate nitrogen supply during the period of maximum spring growth from April to June.

Mr. Brown says use of right seed and kind of fertilizer will not overcome late seeding; neither will seeding on time make up for a deficiency in fertilizer or the use of poor seed.

His final word has a familiar ring: don't put off seed cleaning until there is a general rush; and all seed should be treated for smut before being sown, to prevent serious losses to the crop.

CONTRACT FARMING SPRING SHOW TALK BY DR. W. E. HOPPER

Contract Farming will be discussed by Dr. W. E. Hopper of the Economics Branch of the Ontario Agricultural College in the Wednesday afternoon programme, April 9th, of the Central Ontario Spring Show at the Memorial Community Centre, Peterborough.

A custom of the Show has been some feature address of panel presentation of subjects uppermost in rural interest and concern.

Contract farming has been a recurrent theme of convention and other programmes this winter, and it was F. C. Patterson, Agricultural Representative, who suggested that farmers of the district would likely find this question of interest if it was included in the Show schedule.

A second speaker for that afternoon of April 9th, in Easter week, will be R. H. Graham, Associate Livestock Commissioner of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, who has always something practical and important to talk about with farmers, and especially when he is back home in his own County. He will deal with the livestock industry and outlook.

ONTARIO TURNIP A VERSATILE VEGETABLE

One Ontario crop in brisk demand during the winter has been turnips which are moving quickly on both local and export markets, according to the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Prices received for turnips, or rutabagas as they are also called, have been above those of previous years due to the improved quality of the Ontario product and to an increased domestic demand.

More consumers are becoming aware of the fine flavour and health giving vitamin C content of turnips and are using them raw in salads and as finger foods as well as cooked. The short method of cooking (10 to 20 minutes) helps retain the vitamin content as well as improve the flavour.

There are numerous ways of seasoning boiled turnips to impart variety and create new interest. Brown sugar is a popular addition, and honey a good alternative. Bacon fat may be added in place of butter, or a little grated onion mixed with the bacon fat is also delicious, as is chopped parsley or a bit of grated lemon rind and a generous squeeze of lemon juice. A drop or two of Worcestershire sauce with butter, salt and pepper is another pleasing variation, and with the use of a bit of imagination many other taste treats can be created.

Cream of turnip soup is a favourite in many homes on chilly nights and casserole combinations with cheese, apples, hard-boiled eggs or diced liver chicken make satisfying supper or luncheon dishes.

RED CLOVER VARIETIES FOR 1958

Lasalle red clover has proven to be an excellent variety for Ontario. Its big feature is superior persistence. More of the plants live through the second winter so that second year red clover-timothy fields produce higher yields of hay, higher in feeding value, especially in protein. Lasalle is recommended especially for red clover-timothy mixtures on fields not suited for alfalfa and where the field is to produce hay and pasture for two years.

Lasalle seed is in short supply in 1958 so that it will not be possible for all farmers who wish seed to obtain seed of this variety. A small quantity of Dollard red clover seed is also on the market this year. This variety, Dollard, has been equal in value to Lasalle in trials at the Ontario Agricultural College and can be used if Lasalle is not available.

For further information on red clover varieties, other varieties of field crops, corn hybrids, and hay and pasture mixtures, see Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular 296, Field Crop Recommendations for Ontario 1958, available at the office of your Agricultural Representative.

CANADIAN HOLSTEIN WINS "CANADA TROPHY" IN VENEZUELA

A Canadian bred Holstein cow, Peggy Lass Bogue, was named Grand Champion at the Maracay Fair, one of the leading exhibitions in Venezuela. The Canadian government had offered a silver tray engraved with the Canadian coat of arms as a prize for this award, and it was a coincidence that a Canadian bred cow won it.

Peggy was born September 5th, 1950. She was bred by David Down, of Appin, and was born the property of Wm. J. Murphy, Lindsay, Ontario, who shipped her to Mamon Mache present owner in Mamon Macho Ranch.

Venezuela is proving a good customer for Canadian cattle. Exports in 1957 to Venezuela were twice as high as in 1956 and three times as high as in 1955.

THE FOOD BASKET SURPRISE YOUR FAMILY WITH APPLE PANCAKES

At this time of year pancakes are a favourite standby for breakfast or supper. Instead of serving plain pancakes, next time you mix up the batter why don't you add some chopped apple? The fine apple flavour will predominate and you'll notice that the pancakes have a different but very good texture, too. Serve the apple pancakes with maple syrup or honey and sausages, bacon or grilled ham, if desired.

When you make your own batter, allow 1 cup chopped apple for six large pancakes. To make spiced apple pancakes, add 1-8 teaspoon of cinnamon and 2 tablespoons sugar along with the 1 cup apple for six large pancakes.

To make apple pancakes from a mix, follow one of these recipes recently tested in the Consumer Section test kitchens:

Apple Pancakes

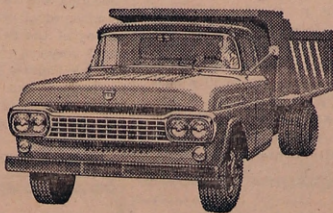

- 1 1/2 cups pancake mix
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1 cup unpeeled, coarsely chopped apple

To the pancake mix add the milk, beaten egg and melted butter (not hot), then combine thoroughly. Stir in the chopped apple and stir well. Drop by spoonfuls onto a hot griddle or lightly greased frying pan. Cook until bubbles form on the top, and the under surface is brown. Turn and cook until other side is brown. Serve immediately. Six large (5 to 6 inch) pancakes.

Nobody would deliberately walk in front of a cannon about to be fired, but too many people take the same risk by walking blindly into moving traffic.

Every Canadian has a direct interest in the woodlands.

STIRLING CENTENNIAL, AUG. 3rd to 6th, 1958

DO YOU KNOW THAT ...

Stirling, as the agricultural centre of Hastings County, has played an important part in the promotion of modern methods.

Soon after the erection of the King George High School, an experiment was considered whereby certain High Schools, under government supervision would become, in effect, County Agricultural Colleges. Stirling was one of the first three centres to be accepted.

Therefore in 1910, Mr. A. D. McIntosh was appointed as the first Agricultural Representative of Hastings County. Under his tuition, some fifty pupils were enrolled in the subject of Agriculture at the High School and a new value was attached to this pursuit of knowledge.

It became evident that it would be beneficial if the Representative's services were available at all times and an office was opened in the Empire Block, adjacent to the present officers. Many problems came to the attention of the local Representative, and it is interesting to note that with certain modifications, similar problems are discussed today.

The interest and benefits derived from increased tests spread rapidly over the area. The territory gradually was extended until now every corner of the County is encompassed. Junior organizations have provided opportunities for younger citizens and with these additional responsibilities the Representative has needed assistance. An Assistant Representative and a Home Economist devote their efforts to County work and secretarial help is also employed.

Stirling is proud of its Agricultural affiliation and records the names of the following Representatives who have contributed to good living in this Village:

A. D. McIntosh, 1910-21; Ray Atkin, 1921-28; Joseph Wilson, 1928-37; H. L. Fair, 1937-47; A. O. Dalrymple, 1947-57; Sidney MacDonald, 1958.

Eggleton Mission Band

On Friday afternoon the March meeting of Eggleton Mission Band was held at the school with Audrey Stapley presiding. The worship centre at the front of the school was very lovely — the open Bible in front, a picture of coloured spring flowers in the background and a vase of pussy willows gathered by Sheila Clarke at one side.

The leader had Sheila read the verse and all the pupils memorized it, "He Has Made Everything Beautiful in His Time." For the Scripture Lesson, Beverley Stapley read Psalm 101. A reading, "The Man Who Could Not Move," was given by Diane Prest.

The next meeting will be held at the school on April 18th. Keith McMullen gathered the offering. Glen Stapley offered to arrange the worship centre for the April meeting. Roll call showed 19 children and 3 adults present and was answered by naming a spring flower, bird or animal.

A reading, "Preserved from Sickness," was given by Isobelle Prest. The leader, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, told in story form the chapter from the study book, telling how busy Hana's mother had been making new clothes for Hana and Taro to wear to school; describing the children's first day at school in the city and how the minister had invited all the family to attend church.

Marilyn Stapley and Glen Stapley distributed the World Friends papers. Two games were played. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Be With You" and prayer by Mrs. Reide.

Pine Grove W.I.

The March meeting of Pine Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Finkle and Mrs. Leslie Finkle, with 14 members and one visitor present.

The President, Mrs. Allyn Finkle, opened the meeting with all singing the "Opening Ode" followed by the repeating of the Mary Stewart Collect in unison.

For the roll call each member learned the second verse of the National Anthem. Correspondence was read. During the business it was decided that the Institute would join the Canadian Association of Consumers again this year. A donation is to be made to the Women's Institutes of Ceylon for assistance to their people following the flood disaster. Several articles for the layette were handed in and also several sweaters.

The members were reminded that the Extension Service will be held on April 15th in Marsh Hill Church.

Conveners of Standing Committees are to meet on Wednesday evening, April 9th at the home of Mrs. Grace Bartindale to prepare their reports.

Mrs. Bartindale, District Director, reported on the District Executive meeting which had been held recently in Belleville and it is expected that District Annual will be held on June 11th at Wallbridge.

The members are to consider what Extension Service they want for next year. The conveners of Standing Committees reported.

Mrs. Harold Detlor, convener of Education was in charge of the programme, which was opened with the singing of the two verses of the National Anthem. "I refuse to chauffeur my children," was read by Mrs. Bartindale. This was the story of a lady who refused to drive her children to school, who were able to run, jump and play.

Mrs. Detlor gave a paper on "Education," stating a few of the problems of the teacher and the Board of Education. "Would you give your child progressive education?" was read by Mrs. Harry Coulter. Mrs. Farley Lindenfield read, "1900 Waists ... 1956 Wastes." Mrs. Detlor conducted a quiz. Current events were given by Mrs. David Little.
